

UNVEIL 7 TRUTHS

ORIGINS OF GOD, THE ANGELS,
MAN AND THE PROPHETS

(Whose Lives are Illuminated by Love)

Preface

What lies in wait within the (7) annals herein remain for all of free-will to consider whether one be of a chosen faith, as well as those of non-faith alike, as the seeking one will come to find, that from the primeval doctrine of old, in verity have all systems of conviction emerged. Moreover, for the reason that humanity in truth cannot pave a sincere path to peace, freedom and love upon the earth, without first unveiling what has come to pass, that the true course in which to forge may be illuminated.

As it has been so, that the ancient texts of old which once united all peoples had been greatly falsified, leading to all having been deceived since time immemorial, it remains my endeavor to share mere nuggets of illumination with those whom are the seekers, questioners, and inquisitors of truth, as within the forged doctrine (the doctrine of modern religions) remains yet enough truth to be unveiled.

"And everything will happen Because my teaching and also the new prophet's will be falsified"

(One with Divine Knowledge)

Thus let it be so, that those whom have eyes to see and ears to hear, and wish to become knowing ones, allow themselves to become as little children once again in their curiosity and thinking, that they may read through the content herein with open hearts and clear minds, setting aside learned convictions (regardless from whither the beliefs may originate) and decide for themselves with reason and logic what is truly of truth.

The content herein is not intended to proselytize the seeker of truth, so for this reason, this site shall have neither a section for public commentary, nor for private inquiry, as it solely remains the contents purpose to be illuminating (informatively thought-provoking), ultimately leaving the journey of the coming to truth, and discovery of the deepest of truths, to the seeker themselves.

"And the time will be long before all this all comes to pass, a long time into the Third Millennium, long, 800 years long, because, first then, the seeds of the Teaching of the Spirit, the Teaching of the Creation and its Laws and Recommendations, as well as the Teaching of the Life, will slowly begin to germinate in the mass of humankind, because they slowly open their eyes and ears, and honestly begin to seek the actual truth"

(Guardian of the Treasure)

In such, details in an all-inclusive form shall not be revealed herein, but rather the veiled parables from within the forged doctrine shall merely be alluded to, that the seeker justly continue on the pursuit for truth in earnest wonder, until the guarded treasure be unveiled. It essentially remains the position of the seeker to determine within oneself what is fundamentally of truth to oneself, which may only be concluded within the might of the thoughts of the seeker themselves.

Once the seeker determines truth for oneself, has the seed therefrom the Tree of Knowledge been sown, to which its fruit (Essence of Wisdom) may be fathomed. It is the seeker, who then becomes the knower, whom may then well-meaningly branch-out to thy neighbor in loving form and share their unveiled knowledge, that they too may be granted the opportunity of endeavoring on the journey for truth themselves, if it be so of their will.

In this wise, the roots of the Tree of Life extend across the lands, to which over the course of time all of humanity may inevitably become knowing ones, armed with the power of true love, knowledge and wisdom, that through such, great change may ultimately ensue, forging the brightest of future for all created life, which may then live as was originally and truly intended upon the Creation.

"Within Religion are veiled rushing rivers of knowledge, to which calm waters of wisdom unveil the Relegeon"

[I] Veiled Commandments

It only seems befitting to initiate this journey of the unveiling of mere nuggets of illumination with discussion of the widely regarded Commandments. While the term Commandment is recognized mostly by those of Christian and/or Catholic conviction, such doctrine equally exists, albeit in differing form, for those of the major religion's of Judaism known as the Mitzvot, Islam as the al-Din al-Jami, Buddhism as the Five Precepts and Hinduism as the Yamas, from which the aforementioned initial three religions, in verity, all other religions and/or systems of conviction have emerged. Hinduism is known for being the oldest religion in existence, with an origin dating to the Indus Valley Civilization circa 2500-1900 BCE, while the present day (3) leading religions are believed to have found their origins in Canaan circa 1500-1000 BCE (Judaism), Roman Judea circa 1 CE (Christianity) and in Mecca circa 7 CE (Islam).

That which has become known as the 10 Commandments, which in earlier times was comprised of 12 Commandments, was historically known as the Decalogue/Dodecalogue canon, although 'Commandment' was not the original term used. The terms Decalogue (Dekalogos = δέκαλογος) and Dodecalogue (Dodekalogos = δωδεκάλογος) are of Greek origin, to which in former times and carried on into the present, the term deca (deka) signifies 10 and the term dode (dodeka) signifies 12, while the term logue (logotype) has changed in meaning. Historically the term logue was synonymous with the term words, respectively a word set and/or a discourse, which is defined as the communication of thought by words, in written or spoken form, to which its etymology had devolved in latter times to be synonymous with the term rule and as a result, ultimately became defined as a basic set of rules that must be obeyed. It ought be pondered, peradventure the meaning of Decalogue/Dodecalogue remains indicative of the simplistic meaning of former times, of that of a 10/12 Word set and/or Set of Words, 'not' Command(s), defined today as Sentences.

The misconstruing of terms and/or words may be further noted within the Commandments themselves, which have taken on vast forms throughout the course of history, to which the most notably spoken of version may be sought within the Testament of Old, respectively the Old Testament, observed by those of Christian and Catholic conviction. The Old Testament is also known as the 5 Books of Moses, to which in verity despite alterations, is equally the Torah to the Hebrew, the Pentateuch to the Greek, the Quran to the Islamic, the Upanishad to the Hindi, and the Uruk to the Ancient Sumerians, to name but a mere few. The Commandments may be found penned amid two differing chapters within the scriptures of old. The most scholarly accepted and publicly recognized version of the Commandments is said to be found within the Exodus and Deuteronomy gospels of the Authorized King James Version (AKJV) scripture, deemed canonical doctrine by religious authorities since 1611 CE.

While a conclusive timeframe of origin has yet to be established for these ancient texts, scholars agree that the source of the Exodus doctrine, also known as The 2nd Book of Moses, which was said to have taken place on Mount Sinai between the one regarded as God and Moses, transpired between the 14th and 12th centuries BCE, while the Deuteronomic doctrine, also known as the 5th Book of Moses, is believed to have transpired during the 7th century BCE. An antiquated version of the Exodus 12 Commandments, as well as most recent versions of the Exodus 10 Commandments (found in Exodus 20:3-17) and Deuteronomy 12 Commandments (found in Deuteronomy 5:7-21) of the King James Version (KJV) reveal stark differences, and contrarily confounding similarities.

12 Commandments (Exodus 20 - Early Version):

- ❖ Thou shalt have no other gods before me
- ❖ Thou shalt not make for yourself an idol
- ❖ Thou shalt not bow down to them or worship them
- ❖ Thou shalt not make wrongful use of the name of the LORD your God
- ❖ Thou shalt not do any work (on the seventh day)
- ❖ Honor your father and mother
- ❖ Thou shalt not murder
- ❖ Thou shalt not commit adultery
- ❖ Thou shalt not steal
- ❖ Thou shalt not bear false witness against your neighbor
- ❖ Thou shalt not covet your neighbor's house
- ❖ Thou shalt not covet your neighbor's wife

10 Commandments (Exodus 20 - Modern Version):

And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

- ❖ Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
 - ❖ Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
 - ❖ Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
 - ❖ Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.
 - ❖ Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
 - ❖ Thou shalt not kill.
 - ❖ Thou shalt not commit adultery.
 - ❖ Thou shalt not steal.

- ❖ Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
- ❖ Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

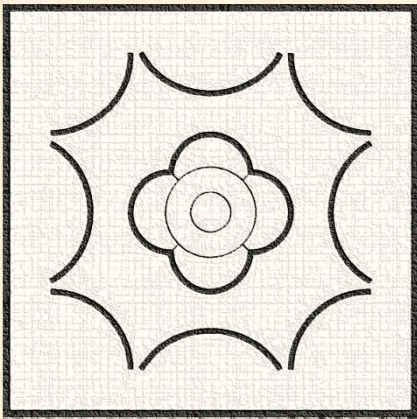

10 Commandments (Deuteronomy 5 - Modern Version):

And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. The Lord our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. The Lord made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day. The Lord talked with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire, I stood between the Lord and you at that time, to shew you the word of the Lord: for ye were afraid by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount; saying, I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

- ❖ Thou shalt have none other gods before me.
- ❖ Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.
- ❖ Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
- ❖ Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou. And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day.
- ❖ Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee
- ❖ Thou shalt not kill.
- ❖ Neither shalt thou commit adultery.
- ❖ Neither shalt thou steal.
- ❖ Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbour.
- ❖ Neither shalt thou desire thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.

Upon one's review of the aforementioned versions of the Commandments, undeniable differences are revealed. Historically the Deuteronomic version of the 10 Commandments was believed to be a mere reiteration of the Exodus version, presumed to have been given to those whom lived circa the 14th to 12th century BCE, until ensuing in-depth review of the Aramaic dialect and of the Hebrew language revealed a myriad of translation differences. Correspondingly, this translation error came to full realization for scholars upon further analysis of the term Deuteronomy (Defteronómio = Δευτερονόμιο), which is of Greek origin, to which the words etymology was believed in earlier times to suggest a copy and/or repeat of something of 'original form'. It was later reckoned by scholars that the true meaning of Deuteronomy was rather to do over, respectively to rewrite and/or to alter something, to which it would 'no longer' be deemed original form. Accordingly, the 10 Commandments in Deuteronomy ultimately became known as the Second Law and religious doctrine was later revised to reflect that the Deuteronomic Law was a set of 'revised' commandments, assumed to have actually been handed down to the distant descendants of the 7th century BCE, whose ancestors were given differing commandments in the earlier times of the Exodus era.

Ancient Symbol for Clarity (Klarheit)

Clarity (Klarheit), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 279

Contrariwise, the Deuteronomic (2nd version) remains obscurely scripted to appear to be directly addressing those of the earlier Exodus time (1st version), as both the aforesaid modern versions speak of 'the inhabitants being brought out of the land of Egypt', although ancient texts acclaim the assumed fateful event occurred but merely once (although the scripted account does not remain in true form). Thus, this cannot be so, as these timelines remain centuries apart and in turn this reflects a 'rewrite' of the previous laws. Nevertheless, be it so, that time discrepancies remain a determining factor, whether one were to give credence to both versions in verity addressing the same inhabitants or not, a paramount question arises nonetheless and in turn ought be put to light.

As the above doctrine is believed by scholars to have originated collectively between 1400 BCE and 750 BCE, one ought then to ponder what doctrine was presented to the man of former times. Early scholars date back the birth of Adam, spoken of in Genesis 2:7, to be around 4000 BCE (although modern scholars whom are revisiting the historic event have recently determined a much earlier time of existence circa 160,000 to 120,000 BCE) (NBC News: Genetic 'Adam' and 'Eve' traced but they didn't know each other). Irrespective of the vast time differential, all timeframes conjectured regarding the writing of the laws (likewise the origins of all religions) remain centuries 'succeeding' the time of Adam. Surely the one regarded as God would not have left his assumed first and/or 'new' human creation without guidance for centuries to come. Thus, logicity alone would reckon that as the 12 Commandments, the later revised 10 Commandments, and lastly the Second Law, was found to have been written thrice over, one ought to give reasonable consideration to the feasibility of this doctrine having been written, respectively 'rewritten', many times over throughout the course of history. Moreover, it would reckon beyond rationality that the 'original version' of said doctrine would have more than likely sung a different tune, respectively spake of different guidance.

"Each human being is free to decide about his individual future. The human being has a free will, which means that he (she too, of course) can decide to do or not do a thing, to think in this or that way, etc. Depending on the decision, the future will be shaped and brought into effect. The thought is the cause, the action the effect. Each human being is constantly determining his life. There is no predetermination by a God. That which man considers as a predetermination can be changed anytime if the correct measures are taken."

(Guardian of the Treasure)

If it were assuredly so, that the earliest of Commandments chronicled, were in verity the correct and unadulterated words of the one regarded as God, for what reason was the bringing of 'New Commandments', respectively the 'Second Law' needed, and why does Luke 6 insist that the one whom had 'become known' as Jesus, the 'presumed' direct Messenger and/or 'inferred' Son of God, or even believed by some to be God himself descended in human form, expressed being not in favor some of the Commandments (i.e. the observing of the sabbath, etc.). One ought to give mere consideration to the word Commandment itself, to which the answer lies! In analysis of the term Commandment, which is of old French (Comander) / later middle English (Comandement) origin, which in its various forms, defines that of an order, a command and/or an order from an authority, the intent of the word reveals its paradox. If it had been justly bestowed upon Man to act and live within the power of 'free-will', defined as the power of acting without constraint and/or the ability to act at one's own will, one realizes with stark lucidity that a set of Commandments would not reckon true, as it would directly go against the very right that had been bestowed upon man upon his creation. Moreso alarming, is the presence throughout ancient doctrine of the punishments handed down for the breaking of the Commandments and other Laws, to the extent and/or extreme of 'punishable by death'. One ought to give just contemplation to, that as the Teaching of the Prophets of old had been found to have been altered by the hands of men, that likewise it ought to had been very much so the same, with the doctrine which became known as the Commandments, as logic alone would reckon this.

Ancient Symbol for Will (Wille)

Will (Wille), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 595

Peradventure, it was 'not' a set of Commandments that were 'forced' upon mankind, but rather a set and/or word set of Recommendations that were 'bestowed' to mankind, that upon choosing of 'free-will' to follow, would experience the utmost peace, harmony and fulfillment in their existence, in alignment with the true purpose for which humanity was created. If just credence were given, that the texts of old were feasibly altered, it would appear so that for millennia the masses have been taught for doctrine the commandments of men. Due ponderance ought justly to be given as to what form of flawless divinity, would presumably bestow upon man free-will, yet likewise in double-speak, seek to subjugate the will of all of mankind via imposing the obeying of forced commandments, to which its anomaly becomes ever more clear, when The God of Love and Wrath is divided!

12 Recommendations

- Ⓐ. You shall have no other might and no gods, tin gods and holy ones next to the Creation.
- Ⓑ. You shall keep honored the name of the Creation and not misuse it.
- Ⓒ. You shall make everyday into a day of festivity and venerate (control) it.
- Ⓓ. You shall not be breaking the bond with the Creation, contained therein: You shall not commit adultery.
- Ⓔ. Honor the Creation equally as you honor, esteem and love your father and mother.
- Ⓕ. You shall not kill in depravity.
- Ⓖ. You shall not be robbing and not be expropriating.
- Ⓗ. You shall not bear false witness against the truth, the Creation and the life.
- Ⓙ. You shall never and never speak an untruth.
- Ⓚ. You shall not desire in avariciousness for material treasures and the possessions of the ones next to you.

[III] The God of Love and Wrath

The masses ought give just contemplation as to whether it truly lies within the realm of reason that a loving assumed creator God would equally 'give life', be long-suffering to 'grant forgiveness', and bestow upon man the gift of 'free-will', yet in duplicity, threaten to 'take life', be tempered to 'inflict punishment', and 'demand' the 'obeying' of commandments, which are 'contrary' to free-will. How could it be so, that a kingdom of heaven awaits with eternal life, yet likewise an abyss of fire and brimstone with eternal damnation. These words sound not of that of a flawless godly being, but rather that of a flawed human being.

Ancient Symbol for Relegeon
(Relegeon)

Relegeon (Relegeon), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 392

While the biblical God, perplexingly coined by many as the God of Love and Wrath, is assumed to be of 'one' being, he appears to speak in 'two' very different tongues. The God of Love is chronicled to have spoken many things of good value in the earliest of assumed commandments (i.e. thou shall not kill, thou shall not covet, etc.), yet perplexingly, the utterances of these words of the God of Love appear to be brought to the people by not a Spirit and/or incorporeal figure, although such semblance is expressed in scripture, such as in John 4, "God is a Spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (although this verse does not remain in its true form, as God and Worship were not the original terms used, but rather the terms the Creation and Honor).

In verity, the long-chronicled words of guidance were never brought to the masses by a spiritual being, but rather by various human beings (by men), such as Enoch (Henoah) whom was said to have been taken by the one regarded as God in Genesis 5:24, "And Enoch walked with God and he was not; for God took him". Equally these words were brought by Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah and Immanuel whom became 'faultily' branded Jesus, as what his name shall be, was clearly stated in Isaiah 7:14, "Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel", or alternatively in Matthew 1:23, "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Immanuel". Although these quotes likewise do not remain in their true form, they beckon 'Immanuel' nonetheless. Also, these words were brought by Mohammad, whom was villainized, which ought to be deeply reflected on by the masses, as well as brought by various others, as in verity, not one generation of man has been without a profit and/or bringer of truth.

Withal, the presence of the God of Love within the scriptures of old appears to diminish quite substantially, upon the God of Wrath taking to the fore, dominating the majority of the scriptural narrative. Forthwith, if one were to now observe what was taught by the God of Wrath via revisiting some of his words, deeds and instruction to the people, a set of evil values reveal themselves, and with sheer clarity, similarities may be immediately recognized in the ways in which the masses live today and have lived time and time again since time immemorial, the unfortunate likes of which can woefully we traced as such all throughout history.

From Releageon originates effective knowledge, which results in further wisdom and knowledge. These, in turn, ensure that the path of evolution may be entered into through both forms"

(The Precious Man)

The God of Wrath instructed the people to obtain 'peace via war', to which he himself was chronicled as having carried-out acts of elimination, although this goes against his very commandments, as found in both Exodus and Deuteronomy, "Thou shall not kill". God was said to have carried this out via the 'supposed' Great Deluge, respectively the Great Flood, mentioned in Genesis 6, and by setting ablaze (arson) Sodom and Gomorrah in Genesis 19. He further inflicted plagues (epidemics) when he smote the villages inhabitants with the Scab, the Itch, and Emerods (Hemorrhoids) in Deuteronomy 28 and Samuel 1, directed the killing of those whom pisseth against the wall (murder of young boys) in Samuel 1 and Kings 1, and instructed that both life (murder) and the spoils of war be taken (thievery) in Deuteronomy 2 and 13, as well as in Joshua 8, although "Thou shall not steal" and "Thou shall not covet thy neighbors house" remain uttered amid the very commandments observed by the masses. Furthermore he condoned subjugation (oppression) of both male and female in Leviticus 25, as well that the women and children of the dead ought be taken as bondsmen (slavery) in Deuteronomy 20, to name but a mere few as per the Authorized King James Version (AKJV) of doctrine itself, a doctrine recognized by the masses and religious authorities as the highest regarded since the 1600's.

Ancient Symbol for Being (Sein)

BEING (SEIN). Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 423

As per scriptural doctrine, the God of Wrath clearly commanded the frequent vast slaughter of the humankind (sacrificial killings), but also 'peculiarly' enough demanded that of the animal kind (burnt offerings), to which he indulged in what he called a 'sweet savory' smell in Genesis 8. This God also instructed the people on how to prepare, respectively 'cook', such offerings, as well as to leave a 'drink' offering, respectively wine, in Exodus 29, to which the masses ought to ponder the true meaning behind such offerings of the edible kind, also to which offerings of the burnt kind devolved to human sacrifice.

The God of Wrath utterly demanded that the masses 'worship' him in 'submissiveness' and obey his commands, and those whom did not heed his 'demands' were met with the aforementioned acts of wrath. In 'duplicity' this God not only broke his very own commandments but habitually instructed the people to break them as well. Consequently, it had come to pass, that the deeds of mankind had been chronicled as having continued in the clearly barbaric and degenerated unjust ways taught by the God of Wrath, throughout not only the course of biblical history, but long thereafter, disregarding the just teachings of the 'misregarded' God of Love. If one simply revisits the history of mankind, one clearly finds countless instances of slavery, murder, subjugation, and others of the like, as well as woefully in the present time, if one heeds what is truly transpiring across the lands, such as oppression, war, rape and thievery, etc.

One ought ponder how the God of Love and the God of Wrath appear to be 'not' of the same nature, respectively of one Being, but rather seemingly of two, peradventure even 'multiple'; moreover how the mannerisms of the dominating God of scripture very much appear to be so as that of a 'man', and not of an incorporeal Being. Upon delving further into the scriptures of old, human form, respectively manly form, is found to be implicitly uttered, thus one may compellingly find the mention of the 'ruling' ones 'appearing as men', arise again and again.

Paradoxically the notorious Lucifer is mentioned but merely once in the entirety of scripture and interestingly enough, he is depicted as that of a man, such as in Isaiah 14:16, "They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms". Likewise, the texts of antiquity make mention of the Angels 'appearing' as, and 'clothed' as men on numerous occasions, most notably when they 'sat' and 'ate' within the home of Lot in Genesis 19:3, "And he pressed upon them greatly; and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house; and he made them a feast, and did bake unleavened bread, and they did eat." ... Prior to wholly delving into the true origins of God, let the seeker of truth foremost grasp in verity whom God truly was, or whom God was not, in God He Was Called Not.

Religion in amalgamation of its various oxford dictionary definitions may be concluded as, a set of organized beliefs (a systematically arranged hierarchical or bureaucratic structure), practices (repeated actions/commands), and systems (instated controls/demands) that most often relate to the belief (submissiveness/contrary to knowledge) and worship (idolatry/adoration) of a controlling force (contrary to free-will), such as a god or supernatural/manifested being.

Ancient Symbol for Wisdom
(Weisheit)

Wisdom (Weisheit), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 591

Due consideration by the masses ought be given as to where the term God indeed originates and what lies behind its correct meaning, for if the ancient texts of old delineate that the biblical God was assumed to have been cited as YHWH, how did God become the turn of phrase widely utilized today. The term God essentially is of Germanic origin, from the word Guda, to which the earliest written form of the word actually derives of the Christian Codex Argenteus. As this manuscript dates back to the mere 6th century, surely early humans could not have utilized this expression when speaking in reference to the one regarded as God. In verity, as texts from antiquity assert, Gods name, respectively what he was believed to have been called in the earliest of times, was JHWH, interchangeable with the more recognized YHWH, to which this appellation was said to have been revealed to Moses by the one regarded as God himself, notably chronicled in the Book of Exodus 3:14, although in verity this appellation was in existence much earlier.

As various languages emerged over time, as well as new faiths developed from the main religions of old (i.e. Judaism, Christianity and Islam), YHWH took on many forms. Nevertheless, YHWH in actuality derived of the Hebrew tetragrammaton theonym יהוה, which consisted of a sequence of consonants believed to be pronounced as either Yod Heh Waw Heh or Jod Heh Waw Heh, resulting in the YHWH and/or JHWH most commonly acknowledged. From this pronunciation derived the term Yodh from the Semitic Abjads, a consonant writing system, which gave way to various other derivatives thereof (i.e. the Aramaic, Phoenician, and Syriac term Yod, Hebrew term Yud, and Arabic term Ya, etc.). As languages came and went over time, it was the German language which had become one of the major dialects of the world, with the first written Germanic language having been established in the 4th century. The transliterated Proto-Germanic form of Yodh bore the term Guda, to which the later German word Gott arose and Old High German variation Got, which ultimately led to the formation of the popular Old Low German word God, most widely recognized and utilized today.

Having distinctly set forth how the use of the term God came about, and returning focus to the presumed name in question, respectively YHWH, it ought be pondered if in man's desire to bestow upon the 'ones' recognized as God(s) a pronounceable name, as was the likes placed upon man themselves, peradventure YHWH in its original form was an 'acronym' symbolic of a different meaning!? Despite attempted annunciations, emerging languages and/or changing dialects, one undeniable element has remained constant, such that despite the modern use of the term God, since time immemorial the masses have consistently recognized that 4-letters remained symbolic and/or representative of this individual (name and/or term for God).

For those perceiving such truth, allow that it be considered that JHWH (Latin) was the correct form of the term, yet as dialects progressed, it became interchangeable with YHWH (Hebrew) and even IHWH (Greek), albeit was not a name, but rather a title, respectively an abbreviation for the title Jschwjsch, to which the acronym JHWH remains explicit, which means King of Wisdom, in a long lost ancient language, to which the Germanic language was borne, which shall be further expound upon. This 'title' was bestowed upon 'men' whom had acquired great knowledge, such as some of those whom had become biblically known as the most high (i.e. Jehovah/Jehowah - Christianity / Catholicism / Jehovah's Witness / etc., or Yahwah/Yahweh / YodHehWawHeh / JodHehWawHeh - Judaism / Israelites / Hebrews / etc.).

"Wisdom is the characteristic of a human who has recognized the existence of his spirit and cooperates along with the spiritual laws."

(The Demi-Queen)

In light of such, it remains for one to give due thought to whether this form of titling solely applied to the men of times past. Forbye, while the ancient texts paint a rather male dominated narrative, the masses ought to ponder if this was truly so, as many females appeared to play vital roles within the scriptures of old, such as the revered Mary of Tiberias, respectively Maria, and even the disparaged Mary Magdalene, respectively Mary of Magdala, in verity Miriam. Further notable ecclesiastical women of significance were said to be Esther, Martha, Sarah, Rachel, Hannah, Abigail, Elizabeth, and Deborah, to name but a mere few as per biblical narrative. Peradventure, females likewise held more dominant roles in times of old than insinuated, to which their importance became simply either lessened and/or the facts surrounding their influence were omitted from ancient texts in their entirety, for the reason that male paramountcy may reign supreme per the wishes of the many falsifiers of ancient texts of those times, to which doctrinal authority in past times was solely granted to men.

For those accepting the aforesaid as logically being so, let it then be further heeded, that as it was with the male form, that the designation be granted as a King of Wisdom, respectively an Ischwjsch, baring the title JHWH after his name, it was likewise granted to the female form, that the designation as a Queen of Wisdom, respectively an Ischrjsch, bore the title JHRH following her name. These titles are correctly pronounced as Ish-wish and Ish-rish, arising from an ancient Lyran language brought to man in times immemorial, respectively 389,000 years ago, yet spoken again in mass as recently as 13,500 years ago. This language was presented to man by 'one of wisdom', as mentioned in Zephaniah 3:9, "For then I will restore to the peoples a pure language, that they all may call on the name of the Lord...", although in verity the term used was 'not' Lord, but JHWH, whom brought in succession to man not only the Lyran language, but moreover the 10/12 Recommendations (later falsified to the 10/12 Commandments) and the teaching of the true way to live, respectively the Spiritual Teaching encompassing the Teaching of the Truth, The Teaching of the Spirit and the Teaching of the life, which is the true Teaching of the Prophets, in unification with the Laws of the Creation, that man may live the fullest of life, if willfully followed.

Regrettably the Lyrans language had become distorted over time, with today's German language being the closest remnants of such and remains the root of all Germanic languages. In verity all earthly dialects were refined by the Ancient 7 Lyrans Languages: from Arjn arose Celtic, English, Germanic, Indo-European and Latin, from Hebrjn arose Arabic, Aramaic, Assyrian, Babylonian and Hebrew, from Kjdan arose Chinese and Japanese, from Trjdjn Indian, Central and Southern Hemisphere Islanders, from Bamar arose Australian, Middle Eastern and Ottoman, from Suman arose Ancient Greek, Atlantean, Minoan and Sumerian and from Westan arose African, from which all further languages were later developed. Woefully today the masses remain greatly confounded amid one another, drowning amid a sea of myriad dialects. Peradventure in the vast future the pure language of old be restored to which consonance (harmony) and true understanding amid the people may be brought about once again, yet while surely preserving the value of earthly languages ... Yet primarily let it accordingly come to pass, that the seeking one discerns the true Origins of God and the Angels, thus let it be so, that what nuggets of proof and of truth that remain extant in this regard now be revealed!

The titles Jschwjsch (JHWH) and Jschrjsch (JHRH) are indicative of a man or woman whom has attained vast knowledge, respectively has mastered, a particular field of study, or several fields of study, to which the title King of Wisdom or Queen of Wisdom is bestowed. The aforesaid titles do not denote the level of Spiritual, respectively Creational, evolution that the JHWH and/or JHRH has reached, nor is reflective of having attained an evolutive perfection, or relative perfection. Consequently, an JHWH and/or JHRH may remain subject to mistake/error, as well as may engage in right (good/positive) and/or wrong (misdeed/negative) acts.

[IV] Origins of God and the Angels

In the modern time, many have begun to greatly ponder whom God and the Angels in verity were, and while stories of grandiosity paint a rather extravagant narrative of beings of a spirited-form, perhaps the mark has been missed, yet nevertheless remains obscured in plain sight. The most profound proof regarding the origins of God and the Angels may be found within the scriptures of old themselves, notably within the Book of Ezekiel. The rather peculiar portrayal of YHWH's, respectively the JHWH (Jschwjsch) chariot remains quite interstellar, moreover the description of the Angels themselves, inclines one to engage in deeper thought as to the true nature of God and the Angels.

If one were to merely observe what is naturally occurring amid nature, one may determine the 'form' of God and the Angels of ancient times with clarity. Observe that while the species Plant Life exists, within such remains countless genera therein, and amid such one may find families and/or classes of all colors, from opaque to midnight, with exterior textures from thorny to velvety. The same is true for Animal Life, to which countless species may be observed as having a rather broad semblance, from coats of fur to coats of armor, of dark or tropical variation. This remains true for all life forms (i.e. fauna, flora, etc.) upon the planet, so one ought question how could such a diverse array be so for 'all' life of the lower evolution, yet not be so for that of the life of the presumed highest evolution and intelligence, respectively the human being? While the human beings of earth indeed have certain aesthetic differences, including variations in skin, hair and eye color, the entirety of the 'known' populace is but of one species.

Peradventure some of those found within the scriptures of old (i.e. Seraphim, Cherubim and Satyr), as well as in ancient legends (i.e. Faun, Minotaur and Centaur) and even in modern day folklore (i.e. Yeti, Bigfoot and Sasquatch) is merely that of other human life, respectively human beings, of differing species. This would surely correlate with those of the biblical times whom were seemingly accustomed to living amid differing human species, indicative of the countless biblical references to God and the various Angels, 'presumed' to be spirit-form beings, yet in truth, having been depicted as 'having the likeness as the appearance of a man' and/or having the faces of men, as so stated in the Book of Ezekiel, and likewise found throughout scripture were also some chronicled as having been of an engendered half human/animal kind.

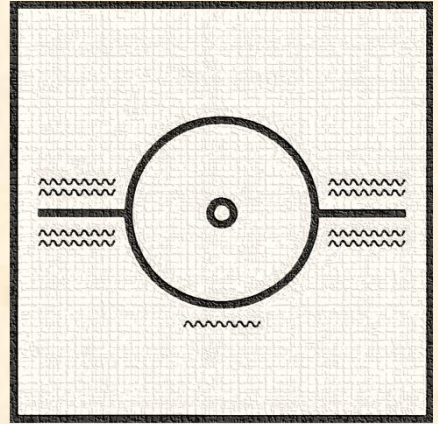

The texts of old likewise acknowledge the presence of 'Giants' living in the lands 'prior' to the Sons of God, having come on to the daughters of men, and in no way had it been mentioned that there remained discord amid the differing human species whom seemingly lived amongst one another, prior to the introduction of those later labeled as the 'fallen ones', and their later offspring of a giant kind mentioned in Genesis 6:4, "There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the Sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown".

"Knowledge simply is the result of absolute logical insight in recognition of the Truth."

In returning to the origins of the God and Angels specifically in question, one ought to give thought to what the human beings of earth were in truth witnessing when they 'believed' those regarded as God and the Angels were descending from the heavens, within lights of amber and from whither they came. One ought ponder, if God and the Angels were in fact spirit beings of an immaterial nature, for what purpose would they necessitate a mode of transport such as a chariot, chronicled in the earliest of times as having singing lights and folding wheels that lifted up, as chronicled in Ezekiel 1:20. One ought likewise give further thought to the origins of the presumed halo which were said to have encircled the heads of assumed spirit beings, depicted as spheres of light, and the shimmering garments of white they were said to have worn. Attention ought likewise be drawn to the various portals and staircases mentioned throughout biblical narrative in which the assumed spirited ones were said to be able to ascend and descend, such as mentioned by Jacob in Genesis 28:12-13 "...and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the Angels of God ascending and descending on it. And, behold, the Lord stood above it..." and by John in Revelations 4:1 "After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter". How could John come up, and/or ascend, to where the presumed spirit beings stood, chronicled as being a mere man, but a simple human being.

Ancient Symbol for Truth (Wahrheit)

Truth (Wahrheit), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,

Peradventure, it was not a spirit realm just above the clouds in which the ones regarded as God and the Angels came, but from the depths of outer space; for how could it not be feasibly so, when one considers the vastness of the universe and the uncharted territories therein, that on earth alone would exist the only living human life, as a vast many truly believe, with many disregarding the conceivability of other life on other planets, being of a higher technological advancement, of a higher evolved state, of differing human being form and having far predated the existence (the creation) of the earth human being. Perchance the rendered preeminent chariot of yore, with singing lights of amber, was in actuality the sounds and glow of an arriving ship, and the portals mentioned in which those whom 'appeared as men' stood, were simply doorways from which stairs descended permitting those whom entered and exited a means to walk-up and down upon; with the sounding trumpet being an intercom/speaker communication system, and just perhaps their garments were mere suits uncommon to the man of that time, just as the spheres that encircled their heads may have been reflective helmets. Let the open-minded seeker heed that the aforementioned does not remain within the realm of impossibility, for it has been in mention since times of old.

Authentication of such possibility may be found scattered across the face of the earth, thereof within paintings of the renaissance, such as the much debated object in the sky of the 16th century "Madonna and Child with the Infant St John" which hangs amid the Hercules Room of the Palazzo Vecchio in Florence Italy, the 11th century fresco-mural "Jesus on the Cross" which may be observed upon the wall of the Svetitskhoveli Cathedral in Eurasian Georgia, and the 1700 "Baptism of Christ" by Aert de Gelder, which all display futuristic ships.

Evidence dating much further in antiquity may be observed on the 600 CE limestone sarcophagus lid of the Mayan King Pakal detailing ascension 'vehicles' observable at the Temple of Inscriptions at Palenque in the Yucatan, or within 3000 year old hieroglyphic engravings of 'futuristic crafts', such as the lintel carving at the Temple of Osiris, likewise found within the Temple of Seti at Abydos near el Balyana Egypt. Correspondingly, how could one ignore inexplicable technologically advanced structures which are claimed to have been constructed during primitive eras, such as the circa 2500 BCE Egyptian Pyramids of Giza, 1336 AD Indian Temples of Vijayanagara, 1000 CE Moai of Easter Island, 600 AD Mexican Pyramids of Chichen Itza and 530 AD Bolivian Puma Punku Temple. Moreover, advanced earthworks within the United States, such as the Ouachita and Cahokia Mounds in Louisianan circa 3500 BCE and the Horr's Island Mounds in Florida circa 3400 BCE, which predate the Egyptian Pyramids and Stonehenge. The portrayal of interstellar crafts and beings have likewise been discovered on ancient pottery dating back to 6000 BCE, which may be found on display at the National Museum of Iraq in Baghdad.

"When one finds effective true love, truth and wisdom, then one recognizes with astonishment, that in all their essence and forms they are very simple."

(Guardian of the Treasure)

While the aforementioned for consideration remains rather complimentary to the postulation, the most compelling attestation ought to be that which remains broadly available to the masses far and wide since time immemorial. It ought be that which remains within arm's length, the chronicles of old regarding the flying objects within the very books of the convictions of the people themselves, recognized as the interrelatable sacred scriptures of old (i.e. the Bible, Torah, Pentateuch, Quran, Vedic Upanishad, Uruk Gart, Tutankhamun Inscriptions, etc.), to which presently 724 full biblical translations exist, and a further 3,589 language transliterations remain avail of key text.

The seeking inquisitive one shall surely come to find that much of the details from ancient texts of a truly descriptive nature have verily changed throughout time, which became so due to the bringing about of new dialects (presently 7,117 world languages), as well as both the formation of new religions and nondenominational beliefs (currently 4,200 world faiths), to which 'distorted amended' versions of the ancient doctrines consequently arose, as well as due to intentional forgery at the hands of men. Nevertheless, despite such unfortunate outcomes, it has remained so since atavistic times that 'just enough' veracity rests amid the content of old, respectively the falsified doctrines of old, for the seeker to unveil the 'truth' ... Yet, in order for one to utterly grasp a true understanding of the confounded biblical narrative, which had set the course of humanity to the disharmonious scene of the present, one must foremost return and seek truth In The Beginning!

[V] In The Beginning ...

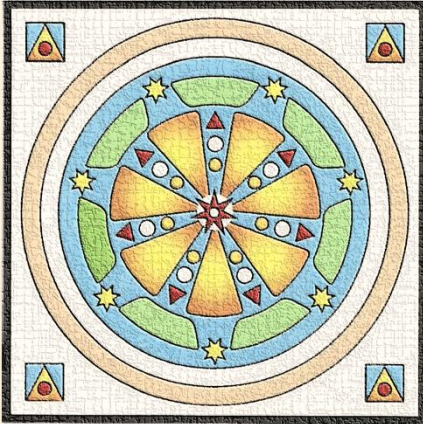

It was said that in the beginning the Heavens and the Earth was created, as well as man on the 6th day, to which Adam and Eve were said to have been brought about, but the truth seeking one ought to examine man's creation a bit further. Prior to delving amid the texts of old as it pertains to the creation of man, it is to be understood that the content of ancient doctrine in verity was of an amalgamated nature. As this remained greatly misunderstood, varying generations of man throughout history interpreted and/or misinterpreted these texts. This led many to perceive the ancient texts as an incomprehensible parable, with some accepting the doctrine as literal in sense, while others explicitly discerned it as figurative in sense, albeit in truth, the text in its entirety reflects both. As to not confound the narrative herein, this annal will solely focus on the literal context.

Genesis 1:27 states "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them". This notable verse has succumbed to innumerable interpretations over time due to its rather dated diction, yet two interpretations remain most predominant. As scholars could not fathom a creation of man having been chronicled 'twice' within the scriptures of old (Genesis 1 and Genesis 2), the Spirit-form creation postulation had been 'wrongly affixed' to the creation of man in the Genesis 1 recount. Accordingly, some believe that the Genesis 1 verse corresponds to the creation of the Spirit-forms that would later enliven both Adam and Eve in Genesis 2, as the one regarded as God was believed to have been a Spirit Being. Nevertheless, this cannot be what is truly being recounted in this verse, as a Spirit-form is not equal to that of Human-form, thus can be neither of a 'male nor female' nature, nor of a 'him or them' form, as this verse clearly expresses.

Some scholars assert the Genesis 1 passage is stating that the one 'regarded' as God (believed to be a Spirit Being) initially created Adam (a Human Being), insinuating Adam lacked progenitors of a humankind, and from Adam came about Eve, ultimately resulting in the bringing about of male and female upon the earth. Peradventure the creation of Adam from the dust, and likewise Eve from a rib, remain immaculate creations of inexplicable phenomena from an immaterial being, or perhaps the truth lies within the very wording of the verse itself. The verse in its simplicity appears to suggest that the one regarded as God, directly classified in the aforesaid verse as a his/he (which is directly associated with the material male-form), indicating that said Being (God) was a he/male, whom created (perhaps 'procreated') a him/male (Adam), and when he later created (perhaps 'procreated') a female (Eve), the them (male and female) came about.

In light of such, one ought to ponder if male and female were in fact initially created in Genesis 1:27, then whom was later created in Genesis 2:7, which states "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul", although this verse, as others, does not remain in its original form. Moreover, the peculiar phrasing of Genesis 5:2 beckons significant attention, which states "Male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Adam, in the day when they were created". This verse seemingly indicates that the created pair of human beings, by he (God), were recognized 'in unity' as 'Adam' (them- 'plural' form).

Origin of the BEING-Becoming and All Existence (Ursprung der

Perchance the creation and/or procreation of many Adam(s) had occurred within the vast texts of old, and perhaps Adam was not originally a name appellation, but rather a designation for a kind, respectively the classification of a species. Since times of antiquity, the meaning of Adam has been synonymous with Man of Earth, in correctness Earth Human, while Eve has been comparable with Bringer of Life, respectively Life Bearer, thus peradventure once upon a time, all Males were deemed Adams (Dams), while all Females were deemed Eves (Evas), and the respective earth human species as a whole was regarded as Adams (Omedams).

Peradventure, these events may be better understood within gaining a clearer understanding of the term Genesis itself. The term Genesis, which is of Greek origin from the word γένεσις (Genesis), to which the words etymology in the earliest of times was believed to suggest the very "origin" and/or "beginning" of something. In deeper analysis of the analogous Greek word γίγνομαι/γίγνομαι (Gignomai/Gignoma) appearing in the New Testament 677 times, it was later understood to mean, "to be born", "to be produced", "to become", "to happen" "to be made" and/or "to arise" denoting the occurrence of a thing, of something possibly new even, at a certain point. Hence, it is probable that the biblical Genesis may not have been portraying the beginning of all things but rather depicting a new beginning and/or the creation of something new at a certain point in time, respectively a 'new creation' of man, and/or 'new species' of humankind, the Omedam. Genealogical Ancestry does not remain synonymous with Genetic Ancestry, thus whilst Genealogical Ancestry asserts that all of mankind may discover a relation to Adam or Eve via some 'possible' lineage connection, as per Genetic Ancestry (DNA) to which a very high degree of genetic similarity remains amid the earthly human races, Adam and Eve were not found to have been the sole source of all human genetic material, which ought rise one to ponder from wither the other genetics arose!?

"Love, human of the Earth, is the first and last law of all BEING, therefore of life, altogether. Without love no creation may form, and without love no transformation may be completed."

The possibility of their having been the creation of multiple Adams, respectively Human species, would further shed vast light on another biblical quandary. If it had been stated by the one regarded as God in Genesis 6:3 states that mans "...days shall be an hundred and twenty years", how is it so that Genesis 5:5 stipulates Adam passed at 930 years of age "And all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years...", as it does not state that this would solely apply to certain Men, such as with Moses whom passed at 120-years. Some scholars speculate that this age change/shortening was imposed on all of Man after the death of Adam. Yet, later in Genesis 9:29, it states that Noah lived until the age of 950, "And all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years..." and much later Genesis 25:7-8 stipulates that Abraham was 175, "And these are the days of the years of Abraham's life which he lived, an hundred threescore and fifteen years...".

Adam was said to have been born between 8000-4000 BCE, while Noah was said to have been born millennia later circa 2948 BCE and Abraham circa 2166 BCE. While this may appear to be the presence of a slow gradual decline in age, imposed upon man henceforth as punishment, due to Adam and Eves assumed sin, it is not so, for although the death-record timeline provided within Genesis carries on in sequence, the ages fluctuate, with some of the young greatly exceeding the old by centuries' (i.e. Jared 962 - Genesis 5:20, Enoch 365 - Genesis 5:23, Methuselah 969 - Genesis 5:27, Lamech 777 - Genesis 5:31, Noah 950 Genesis 9:29). Surely one could conjecture that God simply extended the life of those of which he favored, however were not Abraham and Moses among the said chosen ones? Yet they both passed at a mere age of 175 and 120-years of age, which ought be pondered.

Ancient Symbol for Goblet of the Truth (Kelch der Wahrheit)

Goblet of the Truth (Kelch der Wahrheit), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching, by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 275

Returning focus to the notion of Adam having foreseeably been a designation for a species (Omedam), let us delve a bit further. Let us pay heed to since times of old and still so in many cultures today, the meaning behind a name was/is of great importance, believed to be indicative and/or suggestive of one's true purpose and/or life path. In considering this and the term Omedam in anatomized form, Om-e-Dam, much more is revealed! Since time immemorial Om has been symbolic of the essence of many things, from the sacred hum (aum) of the universe and the frequency of all life, to the eternal healing vibration and the primordial energy of creation, when thinking in terms of quantum physics that all is energy, frequency and vibration. Despite the formation throughout the eons of innumerable religions, convictions, languages and cultural practices, OM in its myriad of forms (i.e. Aum, Ohm, Um, etc.) has remained irrefutably constant, in such that it is recognized by all in one form or another, and peradventure it is so for the reason, that OM innately remains the quintessential connection to all of creation.

In view of such a possibility, could OM not signify that which intertwines all of existence, such as the Laws of Nature, the Laws of Creation, and all other related Laws? In observation, the term OM could be symbolic and/or synonymous with Law, in which Omedam (when intertwining that in the earliest of times male and female were jointly recognized as Adams (Dams), respectively (Earth Humans), as per scriptural inference within Genesis 5:2, could then appear to be viewed as "OM=Law" "E=and" "DAM=Earth Human", or alternatively its meaning could be interpreted as "OM=Law" "E=and" "DAM=Fulfillment", as the created Omedam (Earth Human) species intended purpose was, and is, to be the Fulfillers of the Law. The Law being the OM, which is the acronym for Omfalon Murado, respectively Omfalon ir Murado, in an ancient Lyran Language, which translates to Laws of Creation. In such, the Earth Human, the Omedam, is the 'Fulfiller of the Laws of Creation'.

Forthwith, thought ought to now justly be given, as to 'whom' exactly in truth is undertaking the creation of mankind in Genesis. Although various religions such as Asatru, Druidism, Candomblé, Hinduism, Shintoism, Taoism, Thelema and Wicca recognize polytheism, it is principally accepted among the masses and present over 4-thousand religions that but one God exists, or existed. In reflection of Genesis 1:26, just prior to the chronicled creation of male and female in Genesis 1:27, the one regarded as God said "...Let us make man in our image, after our likeness...". This would draw nigh many to ponder if the lesser religions were correct, were there in fact many Gods (us)? If one were to reflect on previously discussed revelations, such as in the annal titled "(III) God He Was Called Not" which unveiled that JHWH (Gods assumed name) was not a name, but rather an acronym for a title bestowed upon 'men' with great knowledge, this would corroborate that the presence of 'many' Gods, respectively JHWH's (Jschwjsch and Jschrjsch), was quite reasonable when one considers the aforesaid biblical quote of plural form (us/our). If one were to conclude this to be the most logical inference, this would further shed light on the quandary of the biblical God seeming of a split-nature (both loving and wrathful), as discussed in the annal titled "(II) The God of Love and Wrath", reckoning more than likely so, that the spoken of God was not truly one being, but rather two, or even more.

Despite whether it had been discerned to have been intentionally forged, or unintentionally transliterated, it was so expected, and accepted as the standard by scholars, that all doctrine of antiquity had undeniably succumbed to unavoidable translation errors in one form or another. In consequence of this admittance by scholars, could it not be further so, that an intertwining of events likewise had occurred, clouding the truth so much so, that the roles of the characters of the biblical narrative had become crossed (i.e. Gods as Angels, and Angels as Gods). Peradventure, the chronicled creation of man (Adams), was indicative of the intermingling of the Angels, respectively the Sons of God, recognized as Gods themselves by some religions (a foreign human species), with the daughters of men (the native human species), to which a new human species was bred (Omedam). For one ought reasonably give thought to the true extent of possibility and plausibility, as to how 'presumed' spirit beings of 'supposed' incorporeal form, could conceivably procreate with human beings of corporeal form, to produce offspring strictly of physical-material-form (in recapitulation of previous annals, instances revealed God, Lucifer, the Angels, and their offspring of a Giant kind, as appearing as men, referenced standing, as well as the sitting and eating with Lot, the mention drink and burnt offerings, which were said to correspond to a sweet savory smell, etc.).

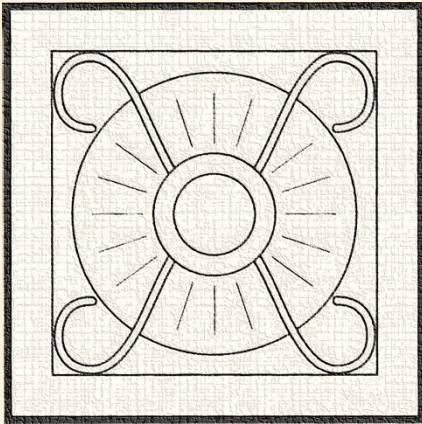

The conceivability of God and the Angels having been 'not' of a spirit-being nature, but rather in fact of a human-being nature, unnative to earth as discussed in the annal "(IV) Origins of God and the Angels" ought to be greatly contemplated by the masses and given due credence ... In light of the extent of thought-provoking revelations thus set forth, let it be so for the truly seeking and accepting one, that at long last it be unveiled, as to how once upon a time these beings prevailed upon earthly humanity with Signs and Wonders.

Wellspring "Talmud Immanuel"
(Guardian of the Treasure)

While the term Talmud historically has been tied to that of Jewish law and tradition, and its corresponding religion, the word Talmud in and of itself is not of a religious connotation. The word Talmud of Hebrew origin from the term תלמוד simply means study, instruction, or learning. Conclusively the term Talmud is defined as 'a compilation of ancient teachings regarded as sacred', which in nowise remains religion bound, thus Talmud Immanuel simply =equals= Teachings of Immanuel.

[VI] The Signs and Wonders

To summarize, en masse deduced from previous chronicles was the conceivability of God and the Angels having been men (respectively human beings of a different kind, of both male and female nature), whom were from the depths of outer space, of which there were multiple Gods (respectively JHWH's and JHRH's), whom colonized and prevailed upon Earth, to which a new species was created by them called Adam's (respectively Omedam's), as well that other human species of a vast kind existed long ago. Urged likewise therein, was that contemplation be given as to how it could have been so that mankind in due course could have degenerated to such a startling degree, in the ways horrifically echoed throughout biblical narrative (such as human sacrifices, wars, slavery, et cetera), from which the present systems of politicism, religionism, sectarianism, patriotism, et cetera, all originate.

Revelation (Offenbarung), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 357

Prior to the unveiling of that which is historically relevant to the root of the earth-kind's decline, it is to be reiterated that while the scriptures of old have been 'greatly manipulated' fashioning significant untruths, that which may be deemed truthful content is in actuality an amalgamation of various intertwined events spanning amidst vast timelines, which in verity reveal therein 'just enough' validity as to the darkest side of human history. It unveils a murky past that the human being of earth ought at last perceive, if history is to cease repetition and the road to freedom is to be truly realized, a repetition eerily alluded to in Ecclesiastes 1:9, "The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun".

Without further ado, allow the following to illuminate the essence of truth within the minds of the truly accepting ones, as to how it ensued many moons ago (389,000 years ago, respectively in 387,000 BCE), that diverse Beings from the vast expanse of the firmament (the depths of outer space) 'rediscovered' a beautiful blue planet called Terra, within the Sol Star (Solar) System of the DERN Universe (which is 1 of 7 Universes), following having fled the chaos amid their heavenly realm (their war-torn planets) for which they held direct responsibility for. In vast numbers of 'many millions', led by 144,207k leaders and subleaders (from which later arose the notion of the biblical 144k), they descended upon Terra in their chariots of shining and singing lights (spaceships). These newly arriving spacefaring Extraterrestrial Beings (merely defined as Terrestrial Beings unnative to Terra) of a 'different' humankind and of varying races, noted upon Terra dwelled Beings of a docile nature (to which early native earth terrestrials were of a feral nature, respectively of a wild state and/or condition, however not of the ape-like esthetic historically depicted).

The Extraterrestrials, being highly evolved beyond the primitive Terrestrials, thus seeing no harm from them, set forth to colonize the beautiful blue planet of Terra which appeared in its entirety as a Garden of Eden. Woefully within a short time, the refugee Extraterrestrials had forgotten that Terra and its peaceful inhabitants had been their sanctuary from the rebuke of the inhabitants of their home worlds (Planets Nagal, Dejma, Senas, Trjbol and Nakar, of the Lyra and USOL Star Systems 3.816b light-years away), and set out to gain control over the Terrans utilizing the same systems of control (today deemed Religions) as that of their Barbaric Ancestors (i.e. subjugation, servitude, worship, etc.), which they used in preceding times to conquer many worlds amid vast galaxies.

Foremost, the lead 207 Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones 'oathed' to mix with the Terrans to procreate descendants and create nations of their own kind upon Terra, as chronicled amid ancient earthly texts, indicative of the Angels/Gods (Sons of God, later termed Fallen Angels) having come down onto the daughters of men, as well as cited in the OM 31:115, "All of us will do an oath of alliance and obligate ourselves among each other thereby, not to abandon our intent and to carry this out and to keep silence about it, that the JHWH does not learn about it".

Therefore, they took for themselves wives and husbands from among the Terrans, as mentioned in Genesis 6:2. The Extraterrestrial Semjasa mated with a Terran Woman termed Eva and created a male whom he termed Adam who was the origin of the Terran White Race (the Fair-skinned whom settled about the Black Sea - Adam and/or Dam equals Man of Earth, respectively Human of Earth and/or Earth Human, as discussed in the "(IV) Origins of God and the Angels"). Asasel did likewise and created Ledon whom was the origin of the Terran Dark Race (the Brown-skinned whom settled about the Mediterranean Sea) and Sartael did likewise and created Tetel whom was the origin of the Terran Red Race (the Native and/or American Indians).

In light of such, one ought give great ponderance as to the feasibility of the chronicled supposition that Noah, in verity named Noahndakan/Noahkadosser (being of a fair nature), chronicled in the Book of Enoch as having white skin and white hair of wool, and eyes as bright as the sun, annaled as having solely one wife named Naamah (a Shemite, likewise of a fair nature), were to have miraculously produced three sons of three different races, whom were Japheth (Fair/White complexion), Ham (Deep/Brown complexion) and Shem (Tan/Yellow complexion), whom were to supposedly have been the origins of these races on earth.

The Extraterrestrials began to teach their elected Terran mates and descendants, whom had 'multiplied into great nations', things of righteousness (i.e. handy crafts, medicine, etc.), yet also all unrighteousness (i.e. the art of war, cutting of metals for weaponry, etc.) to which the Terrans 'willfully' took up the misdeeds for themselves, shortly turning away from the peace and harmony they once observed, as chronicled in Book 1 of Enoch 8:1-2, "And there was great impiety and much fornication, and they went astray and all their ways became corrupt". Those Terrans whom were not of the Extraterrestrials 'chosen peoples', were subjected to all sorts of unjustness and suffering, to which they ultimately served the Extraterrestrials as their 'Creators', worshipping in both confounded belief and fear of punishment, sacrificing when beckoned, animals, their neighbors, their children, and themselves alike.

The advanced Extraterrestrials had greatly evolved the senses (the masses remain familiar with merely 5 Senses: hear, smell, taste, touch and sight, while in verity there remain 7 Senses: feel and perceive), to which in the displaying of their acquired abilities (i.e., Telepathy, Clairvoyance, etc.), and sophisticated technology (i.e., flying apparatuses, levitational constructs, etc.), twas the very 'Signs and Wonders' witnessed by the Terrans, which only advocated the false benevolence of these beings, whom would later be regarded in religious scripture as Angels, and Guardian Angels, with some as Gods. Moreover, for the reason that the Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones were of titan height and held long lifespans of two thousand years, while the native Terrans held a much shorter lifecycle, consequently the Extraterrestrials 'appeared' to be immortal in nature, only further promoting their false divine premise.

The Extraterrestrial whom was the highest in command was an Jschwjsch named Semjasa (The Demi-God) and it was his sub-leader an Jschwjsch named Asasel (The Obstinate) whom reigned second in command. They and the remaining leaders equaling 207 and sub-leaders equaling 144,000, are whom became known as the scriptural Sons of Heaven, in verity 'Sons and Daughters' of Heaven. Some among them became deemed by the masses as the 'Good' ones whom the Terrans were to obey and serve, and in failing to do such, would assumedly be punished by those deemed the 'Evil' ones who were others among them (from which later arose the notion of Good being reflective of Gods and Angels, and Evil being indicative of Devils and Demons). In truth, all were cohorts and worked both in unison, and later in rivalry, for world worship, enslavement, and domination of Terra and its inhabitants, with the aide of their subjugated 'bands of many millions of Extraterrestrial followers'.

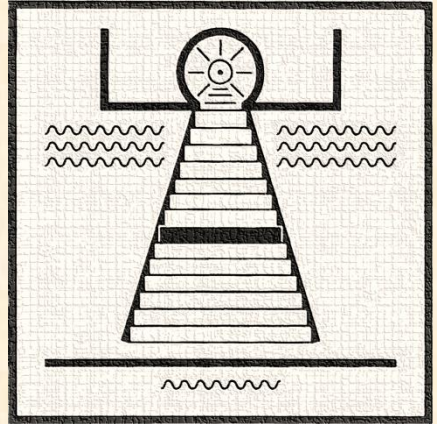

"The word of truth is given and this is wholly sufficient, to reveal the teachings of the truth for any who are willing to approach and bear the effort of acquisition through their own strength."

(OM 20:42)

The lead 144,207k Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones, which in truth were of both male and female nature, procreated with chosen male and female Terrans producing descendants of many races in a 'normal' wise, and these descendants were the Giants mentioned within the scriptures of old whom were of titan height of up to 5-meters, as chronicled in the OM 31:123-124, "And they gave birth to offspring, who grew up fast and were taller than mankind of Earth and also taller than the sons and daughters of the heavens. For the offspring grew up to giants, who measured in height thirty-three feet, which is thirty ells", whom grew much larger in height and worse in savagery than their progenitors. The Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones also mated and/or took by force other earth beings whom were of a 'mutated kind', whom were the 'descendants' of much earlier Extraterrestrials whom had settled, or whom were 'abandoned' on Terra, and expired there long before (spanning well over millions of years).

The Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones not only abused the unchosen Terrans beyond compare, but had maimed, raped, and forced the inhabitants to mate with animals, as well as had 'genetically bred and modified' the Terran beings with animals, creating what became known as abominations. These abominations included the feathered beings the Seraphoids and Cheruboids (beings with Wings whom were biblically termed the Seraphims and Cherubims), horned beings, scaled beings and furred beings (the notable extinct Africanus, Neanderthal and Peking Man). Most of the hybrid creations died-off being unable to procreate, but that which 'remain' alive today can be found amid the Sasquatch, Yeti and the Pan Paniscus (Bonobo Pygmy Chimpanzee), indicative of the Rhesus Factor (RhD Antigen) found within the DNA of the Monkey (with a mere 16% differential to that of human DNA). 94% of the human population carries the aforementioned Rhesus Factor, where in contrast only certain (not all) chimps and gorillas carry this polymorphic genetic. Thus, it is to be understood that it is the Monkey whom evolved/descended from Man, not Man from the Monkey, as well as other earthly creations.

It would be a time later that the settlement on Terra of the Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones would become discovered by other space-faring Extraterrestrials from their home worlds and a reconnaissance would be sent. When the newly arriving Extraterrestrial well-intentioned ones discovered the atrocities on Terra that were being carried out by some of their very own, feeling remorse for what had befallen Terra, they rightfully returned to their home planet to report such to the JHWH (as revealed in "(III) God He Was Called Not" JHWH in verity is the acronym for Jschwjsch which is indicative of King of Wisdom in their native language). It had woefully been discovered by the Extraterrestrial well-intentioned ones, that after a time, the Terrans driven by lust, greed and vexation, had become just as immoral as the Extraterrestrials, with 'few' remaining upon Terra on the path of righteousness, yet regrettably also these had become greatly confounded, sick of consciousness and/or had succumbed to mutation. Terra had lamentably become a breeding ground of disease, degeneration, and annihilation.

Upon careful deliberation among the Extraterrestrial well-intentioned ones and the benevolent JHWH, unable to fathom how to feasibly aid the consciously degenerated, deteriorating Terran inhabitants of a vast kind, it was only saw fit that they confiscate all advanced technology from the Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones, used by them for the total control of Terra's inhabitants, and left them on the blue planet with the fading abominations they had created, as chronicled in the OM 31:141, "But at the time of their trespass, the sons and daughters of the heavens were banished by the JHWH and his people, so they could not return to their own kind, wherefore they remained among mankind of Earth, among whom they lived longer in age than these, because their time of a completed life was two thousand years". In turn, the Extraterrestrial ill-willed ones inevitably acceded to the same degenerations and mutations as the Terrans they defiled and most had succumb to death, as well as all their descendants of a titan kind over several generations whom had in truth turned against their procreators, devouring man, land and beast, as chronicled in the OM 35:129, "Then the giants turned against mankind of Earth and also against the sons and daughters of the heavens, from whom they had descended", yet ultimately had fallen into infertility, while those whom survived had slowly returned to a primitive 'forgetfulness'.

Ultimately, after several thousand years of unspeakable privation the vast colony (i.e. Gods, Angels, Offspring, millions of followers, etc.) slowly faded away, and in time colonies of a genetically-mixed kind 'emerged anew' on Terra (which is today's diverse raced genetically-modified Terrans) whoms origins may be traced back to an Extraterrestrial kind. Stemming from prior events (i.e. the genetic crossbreeding of species, genetic modification of native species, etc.), on Terra no longer existed, nor would be future born, any whom would not be hereditarily affected (i.e. short life-span of approximately 100-years, propensity toward anger and/or aggression, etc.) by the gene-manipulations, which is the true 'Original Sin'.

It shall someday be discovered that the forefathers of today's Terrans had been 'genetically-modified' in times past, by way of 'increasing' the Aggressive Gene (MAOA-L Gene located in the X Chromosome), that they remain Barbaric amid one another and continue to annihilate one another in war, and 'decreasing' the Aging Gene (CISD2, Sirtuin and Klotho Genes, which are part of the 7 Genes that encode the proteins of human evolution) (Scientists Find the Real Fountain of Youth: Inside Our DNA), that their lifespans be shortened from the original lifespan of approximately 1,500 years of age, as chronicled in Genesis 6:3 in regards to the lifespan of man, "...yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years", although this verse no longer reflects the original form. The continued intermixing of the already diverse Terrans proceeded to be the origin of all other races later found on Terra, to which the Yellow Race (the Niper and Kinten, today's Chinese and Japanese) would migrate to Terra at a much later time (approximately 25k years ago, respectively in 23,988 BCE) (Archaeological evidence indicates that Stone Age people lived in the Japanese archipelago during the Paleolithic period between 39,000 and 21,000 years ago), and mix with the diverse Terrans, adding further races of diverse kinds.

It would come to pass, that the 'false-truths' of old would be handed down amid the newly arising Terran colonies, becoming the fabled narrative of their past and present existence (i.e. Creator Gods, Angels, Devils, Karma, Sin, Heaven, Hell, etc.), which would become the 'false history of Terra' and pave the convictions and systems (i.e. Belief Systems of Consciousness Control, such as false Religionism, Politicism, Sectarianism, Culturalism, Ritualism, etc.) (Pew Research Center Analysis: 84% of the world's population identifies with a religious group) that the Terrans would bind themselves to, far into the golden age. This way of life would become the 'inheritance' that would be passed on to all Terrans for thousands of years, that generations of Terrans would come to pass up until the present, to which the mass of Terrans would 'willfully' and repetitively continue in carrying out the very degenerated heinous acts of those whom once anciently ruled, and carry on in warring, robbing, murdering, and simply living in voracity, driven by pride, greed, wrath, envy, lust, gluttony and sloth ... It would be not until the coming of the Bringers of Truth, respectively the Heralds of Truth, that few amidst the generations would begin to find the way of right via The Sevenfold Prophethood!

(Earth may be found as having been known historically as Terra. Maps from renowned geographer and cartographer Gerardus Mercator designate Earth as Terra, and North America as Terra Vista, etc., as recent as the 1500's, and dating much further in history).

Wellspring "OM (Omfalon Murado)"
(Guardian of the Treasure)

The OM is the true Creational Teachings, respectively Creational Laws, respectively Laws of Creation, as handed down to the people in times immemorial. The OM in pervious times was regarded as the Omfalon Murado, Book of Truth, Navel of Life, and/or Life's Navel.

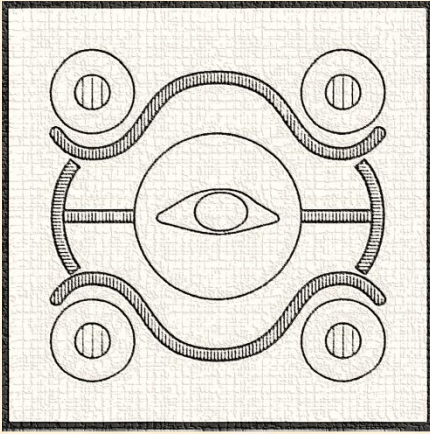

[VII] The Sevenfold Prophethood

Brought to light in the previous annal was the beginning of woes on Terra (Earth). The consequence prevailing that generations of Terrans (Earthlings) would woefully continue in the erroneous ways of their forefathers, confoundedly praying and awaiting salvation via the inconceivable return of 'false' creators and/or chosen ones, to which history would repeat itself, where they would buildup great civilizations of high technology, yet inevitably begin to fight amid one another, warring, sacrificing, killing and/or worshipping in the name of the bones of the dead (the long deceased false Gods, Angels, Saviors, Saints, etc.), time and time again destroying all that had been achieved, repetitively returning the lands and its surviving inhabitants, to a primitive 'forgetfulness' and way of life ... For this reason, had a means been brought forth to attempt to awake the sleeping masses from their bondage via the coming of the Heralds of Truth (The Prophets)!

The task of the truth bringers would be difficult beyond compare and span over great periods of time, for the reason that mankind would continue bound in confounded belief by way of greatly falsified religions and systems of control in the name of God (In God we Trust), as not a one religion remains untarnished, repeatedly going the way of degeneration (i.e. war, murder, suicide, greed, lust, envy, jealousy, addiction, wantonness, violence, discord, hatred, etc.) as horrifically chronicled in Jeremiah 19:5 "They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings ...", to which truth by the bringers would be rejected, and the wrong ways would continuously emerge and prevail upon the earth, with few finding the way, as alluded to in Matthew 7:13-14 "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it". For great times would the earth's inhabitants' dwell amid grand powerful colonies and relish in advanced ways of life, with times of peace reliving in between, only however until the voracities of old would resurface among the masses yet again, ultimately resulting in discord and the echoing cries of the just, reaching into the vast expanses of the firmament once again.

Prophecy (Prophezeiung). Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching,
by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 369

Let the truth accepting one heed the following chronicle of foregone times ... Prior to the unfolding of one of the most recent catastrophic events to take place upon the earth, when the masses were under the rule of a malintent Jschwjsch and Scientist named Arus I (The Barbarian) and his followers, led by his band of 200 Leaders and/or Subleaders, had an attempt been made by an Jschwjsch named Henoah (The Wise Man of Time/The Initiate - mentioned in Genesis as Enoch, more notably as the sole individual within scriptural narrative to not meet an earthly death), whom had previously arrived to Earth in 13,500 BCE with his band of Faithful, with the task of attempting to bring the warring peoples to reason.

In such, Henoah I brought the true Creational Laws and 12 Recommendations (falsified to the 10 Commandments) to the 'Adam of that time', who in turn taught them to his sons and daughters, although Seth steered from these and embarked on 'taking the lands and subduing them', as chronicled throughout scriptural narrative (bewilderingly viewed by the masses as righteous acts). Woefully Henoah's words of truth would be 'accepted by few' and remain 'rejected by the masses', whom would willfully do the bidding of Arus II, followed by Arus III, thus chaos would resume, and a veil of darkness would inevitably unfold upon the face of the earth as never seen.

Approximately 13,000 years ago (circa 11,000 BCE) was the most recent point in time the earth's inhabitants would live amidst a most extraordinarily advanced way of life, being the enchanting time of Atlantis. The continents spanning from North American-to-South America, and Europe-to-Africa, had been the province of a well-intentioned Jschwjsch named Atlant in which the land was called Atlantis, to which the great mass was called Greater Atlantis and the Santorini Region called Lesser Atlantis. The Continents of Asia to Australia had been the province of an Jschwjsch named Muras (Atlant's Wife Karyatide's cousin) to which the land was called Mu. During these times there remained no division amid the Western and Eastern Continents, stating that where the Atlantic Ocean exists today as a vastness of ocean water, once land had existed that conjoined the Western country to the Eastern without break.

9,498 BCE would woefully become a time of great war upon the earth, to which Atlantis would become destroyed and meet a fatal end by way of a 'technologically advanced' war event. A deliberate detonation of vast proportions ensued which split the earth's crust, with the equivalent force of nearly 32,000 hydrogen bombs, causing the earth to shift its axis (the actual cause for the 23.4 tilt), provoking a tsunami (deluge) 2,300 meters (respectively 7,546 feet) in height, to which nearly no life remained, and as times before, surviving mankind returned to a primitive way of life yet again. Following the destruction of Atlantis by its inhabitants, on the surviving lands most evidence of Atlantis and Mu had been extinguished, however the capital of Atlantis, which was called Hyperborea, remains extant and is situated where today's 'Land of the Golden Apples' may be sought (present day Florida), as well as the Islands of the Azores. Hitherto the true remnants of Atlantis' grandeur remain settled far beneath the ocean upon the bed of the Atlantic, where the lost city of Atlantis may be found, and what relics of the lands of Mu is the subterranean city of Agartha, which remains hidden at present beneath the Gobi Desert.

Following the destruction of Atlantis and Mu, surviving mankind struggled to rebuild livable colonies once again, however remaining bound to the erroneous ways of old, the masses continuously exalted other ill-willed ones to the heights of Gods, ultimately being ruled by them and doing as they beckoned for centuries, as stated in the aforementioned annal, and for great times before such. Consequently man would find itself under the rule of the many descendants of Arus (Arus II to Arus XI) for a great time, leading up to being led in bondage by Arus XI's son, an Jschwjsch named Jehavon, whom murdered his father in 4,023 BCE to take reign and command of the Hyperboreans, Armus, Aryans and Hebrons, whom would rage war and destruction upon the earth when beckoned. This was followed by the rule of a Jschwjsch named Jehav in 3,683 BCE, whom likewise murdered his father Jehavon to take reign. This act was repeated thrice, as Jehav's son Arussem likewise committed the murder of his father to take reign, however this was short lived, upon Arussem having been exiled by his two younger brothers Ptaah and Salam whom then brought the vicinity of Hyperborea to peace.

Nevertheless, after a short time Arussem returned with the same malintent in 3,343 BCE and settled beneath the Giza Necropolis vicinity, yet was overthrown by Jehovah in 3,010 BCE (aka Jehowah, Yahweh, Jahwah, Elohim, Adonai, Zebaoth, El, etc., in the various dialects of the time) whom ruled the Hebrons. Ultimately, the biblical God of Wrath Jehovah was displaced by his nephew Kamagol I in 2,080 BCE who took control of all earthly religions converting them into human sacrificing cults (key biblical figures, such as Moses in Genesis 14 and Abraham in Exodus 2 were chronicled as having committed murdered themselves). A time later, his son Kamagol II would seize control upon locking away his father to a dungeinous fate in order to take reign and order mass murders upon the earth, to which the chaos echoed within the biblical narrative ensued (i.e. war, murder, subjugation, sacrifices to God, etc.). Kamagol II would lose reign and inevitably in seclusion pass at an old age of nearly 4000 in 1976 CE.

In the vicinity of Hyperborea, brothers Ptaah and Salam maintained peace for a great time amid the Hyperboreans and others whom sought such, nevertheless disorder continued amid the masses whom proceeded in strife amid their own, 'enlivening' the wrong ways of old in the name of the deceased Gods, Angels and Saints (although the masses no longer remained under the rule of such, but rather under the rule of the ill-willed ones amid their own). Thus in 1,446 BCE Ptaah's great-great-grandfather an Jschwjsch named Hilak imposed upon himself the arduous task of chronicling the events to befall the earth in the millennia's to come (i.e. predictions, prophecies, probabilities, coming of the future Heralds of Truth, etc.), to be dispersed amid the people, that they may 'heed the warnings', come to reason, and endeavor to 'prevent' what may come due to the masses continued blind worship, as it remains so, that the fulfillment of prophecies are subject to 'change' by the very actions of the people, respectively may become fulfilled and/or unfulfilled directly via the action and/or inaction of the people themselves, thus are 'not' self-fulfilling. Nevertheless, woefully the prophecies remained unheeded by the masses, and in the continuing of their wrong ways, the people themselves continued to bring the prophecies to fruition.

Thus, it had been newly decreed that a Prophet (Sevenfold Prophethood) would appear to the people on earth 'again and again in new form' (as well as other truth bringers would come), initiating with the coming of Henoch as (I) Prophet (938-849 BCE), to which he strove to bring the people to reason, that mankind may 'free themselves' from servitude and cultish ways, and ultimately obtain peace. Woefully Henoch's efforts would remain fruitless, thus came Jeremia as (II) Prophet (769-627 BCE) and Jesaja as (III) Prophet (601-516 BCE), which proceeded with Elia as (IV) Prophet (463-372 BCE). Their efforts, as previous others, did not bare much fruit, thus the wrong ways amid the masses continued on for a great time, while those led by brothers Ptaah and Salam maintained order. Upon their passing, leadership of Hyperborea was handed to Salam's son Plejos in 63 BCE whom likewise led the people righteously and in peace.

Ancient Symbol for Proclaimer
/ Prophet (Kunder/Prophet)

Proclaimer/Prophet (Kunder/Prophet), Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching, by (Guardian of the Treasure), p. 297

As it would come to pass that Plejos and his people sought to depart the planet in 1 BCE, the prophethood was to resume with the coming of Immanuel as (V) Prophet (4 BCE-111 CE) counseled by two Jschwjsch's Gabriel (respectively Gaawrjel, whom became known as the Guardian Angel Gabriel) and Kalatan. Woefully, as the masses continued to carry on in obsession, worshipping and fulfilling wars in observance of false religions, Immanuel became wrongly deified by the masses as the Son of God, and even God himself, long after his passing. Immanuel was neither the son of a spirit being nor god descended in human form, but in truth was the son of human beings of the earth whom were wed, son to Jschwjsch Gabriel and Maria of Tiberas, whom begot 'twin' boys named Immanuel and Jacobus (scriptural doctrine speaks of one whom held the likeness and/or appearance of Jesus, to which this person has been speculated to have been an Apostle, Disciple, John, Simon, etc., but in truth speaks of twin Jacobus), to which upon Gabriel's untimely death, Maria later wed Joseph the father of Miriam of Magdala.

It is so, that there in fact remained several individuals within the scriptural narrative whom bore the appellation Jesus (i.e. Jesus of Nazareth, Jesus Barabbas, Jesus ben Ananias and Jesus ben Sirach), to which in truth none of these were the Prophet Immanuel, and in which confusion arose due to forgery, as well as deceit. Thus it became so, that Immanuel had falsely become 'intertwined' with one called Jesus whom held a value of 666, whom in truth was a scribe named Menahem, a false self-proclaimed prophet whom founded his own sect named the Essene to which the Dead Sea Scrolls originate and may now be found scattered amid various religious doctrine, who was later murdered by Roman Soldiers.

What is to be understood regarding the value 666, is that this value (calculated via the ancient sciences, respectively that which was once deemed the secret sciences) derives of an ancient mathematical system utilized to determine positive and/or negative influences/factors (e.g. person, place, thing, event, etc.), to which the value 666 pertains to the greatest of influential negative factors (i.e. factors which encompass decline, degeneracy, deterioration, destruction, etc.). Nevertheless, such values merely present the probability/foreseeability of an influence and does not denote a set determination/outcome, as further determinations may alter the ultimate outcome/destiny. (full calculations shall not be presented herein)

Iesus (Jesus) = 15363 = 666	Christus (Christ) = 11213163 = 666
Papst (Pope) = 62631 = 666	Mord (Murder) = 4725 = 666

Thereafter, was the arrival of Muhammed as (VI) Prophet (571-632 CE) advised by Jschwjsch Gospod (respectively Allah) whom became woefully villainized, and it became so, that all their teachings, as well as the messages of other truth bringers, were 'falsified' by the hands of ill-willed men, and legions of 'false religions' later proceeded from them (all in observance today). This became so, by way that as mankind had woefully returned to primitive ways yet again, following the destruction of Atlantis, the means by which the Prophets may spread their teachings in a manner comprehensible and form feasibly understood by the masses, ought correlate with the times and state of evolution (i.e. oral and dictated teachings that were manually transcribed was the way of the time, thus was unfortunately subject to verbal and written mistranslation and/or falsification). For this reason, had it been ordained that the final coming of Eduard as (VII) Prophet (1937- CE) would come at a time in which the 'Truth' and the true 'Teaching of the Prophets' could be brought and spread without such hindrance, as well as be present the means by which they may be preserved for a great time.

These times and the time to come had already been prophesized by the prophet of old over two millennia ago, and woefully as the way of right has not yet been sought by humanity, what was foretold now begins to unfold and revealth its truth.

"And as he sat on Mount Olive, his disciples came to him and said: "Tell us, when will this happen and what will be the sign for it?" But Immanuel answered and said: Two thousand years will pass and some additional time, but also during the time in between, Israel will never find rest, therefore while wars and many evils will threaten the unlawful occupiers of this land. But see to it, that no one misleads you. Because many will come in my name and say: 'I am Immanuel and I am the sign of the time', and so they will mislead many. Mankind will hear of wars and rumors of wars, so they shall see and not be afraid, because so it must come to pass; but the end is not yet. Because many a nation will rise against its leadership, and one nation against another and one kingdom against another, and there will be death and earthquakes, severe bad weather and great waters moving to and fro. All this is the beginning of the tribulations. Thereupon the knowing people will be handed over into affliction and will be killed. And they will be hated for the sake of the truth of the teachings and of the wisdom. The manifold cults will arise one against the other, so blood will flow in great measure. Then many will succumb to temptation and will betray one another, and will hate one another, because they have remained small yet in consciousness. And because lack of knowledge will gain the upper hand, love will grow cold in many people. And hatred will rule the world and evil will reign. But whosoever remains steadfast in truth, he will overcome. And this teaching will be preached in the New Age throughout the entire world as a testimony to all nations..."

(One with Divine Knowledge - Talmud Immanuel)

While the aforementioned events occurred millennia ago, with the present earths inhabitants having 'evolved' to a civility which remained unheeded by their scriptural forbearers, the 'descendants' of today lamentably continue to serve the long-dead ancient Gods in observance of various falsified religions and fabricated convictions, further in such that they endure raising up ill-willed earthmen (i.e. officials, elites, the rich, the famous, etc.) to the heights of idolatry and worship, mirroring those they revere. To which all evils (i.e. war, murder, theft, greed, riches, lusts, poorness, segregation, unequalizedness, etc.) continue on earth and brew a mighty storm. This storm has swept the earth in times past in the form of death suns (atomic bombs) to which much land and life had been destroyed (the extraplanetary events of Malona and Mars which remain unknown to humanity, and interplanetary events of Somon and Turas, Atlantis and Mu, Sodom and Gomorrah, and Hiroshima and Nagasaki), however, if brought to fruition 'anew' by the people of earth, it will be such as has never been before on the planet.

"And this will be the time, when the world beginneth to die and also the lives of men rise in great number, so that there will be misery and hunger, disease and infirmity and murder and war. But this will not set an end to all evil, for truthfully, therewith will only be set the beginning of the most evil abominations, which will ever be caused by the human beings on Earth, and of which its equal will never be found in all the past and also not in later times, when by one hundred death-suns in the high north of the Earth world, an evil end will be set to the destruction craze and the infamy of the people of Earth and all their abominations by their own destruction. Such will occur in the distant New Age, when mankind of Earth will do like the sons and daughters of the heavens and thus escape from the planet themselves and advance with airships without sails into the expanses of the universe. But at that time, the for or against is also given, so also the good and the evil, which is called right or wrong, therefore the state of things will result therefrom. Therefore, if man of Earth continueth to work in the wrong, then everything will fulfill itself in evil, as I have seen it in my visions and as I am instructed by the JHWH and the watcher angels. But if man of Earth, therefore, worketh in what is right, if he considereth and becometh just, then the evil doth not fulfill itself. Therefore, is being said thereby that the fulfillment of the right or the wrong lieth in the hand of man, depending whether he liveth in striving and acting for the good or in unrighteousness and the false."

(Guardian of the Treasure - OM 31:181-187)

In truth and in the essence of time, the humans of earth will have approached a rapid point of no return, in such that Mankind of Earth may face utter extinction of themselves, and moreover the planet itself, to complete obliteration due to the disregard of its inhabitants. The masses see not, for they have become blind, and they hear not, for their ears have become numb of hearing, thus they heed not the evils that may come -if- not halted by the very masses themselves, which are the same horrors of old, to which only a mere few remained upon the face of the Earth ... Ergo, let it finally be the time amid this golden age of man that the veil be lifted, the masses begin to wake, and recognize the oldest of the old, the wisest of the wise, amid their presence "Nokodemion" and trod the way of right.

The Goblet of the Truth is the true Teachings of the Prophets of old as handed down to the people in times immemorial, to which the foundation of all religious writings stem, such as the Bible, the Tora, and the Quran, and all others, although the aforesaid doctrines linger in falsity, as the original Teachings of the Prophets had been forged. The beginning part of the Goblet of the Truth in previous times was regarded as the Cauldron of Life, which was later fabricated as the Grail, and/or the Holy Grail, although the Grail in truth was nither a vessel nor doctrine, but a physical place and/or location.

Nokodemion (Origin of the Prophethood)

The ancient texts of various religions speak of the coming and/or second coming of God (aka Allah/Yahweh/Jehovah/El/Elohim/etc.) and/or the one they call the Savior (aka Jesus/Issa/Yeshuah/Yuz Asaf/etc.), while others reckon a Prophet is to come and/or the Son of God (Son of Man) is to return with his 144k Angels (Soldiers of God/Heaven), whom are said to judge, as well as fight, all evils on Earth during a presumed End Time. Hitherto the masses remain in grave misunderstanding as to the truth of this long-awaited misstated prophecy, for the ancient texts of old have been falsified since time immemorial and remains such today. This falsification had been carried out by the hands of those to which the Prophets of old had warned the masses of and remains so falsified to this day by the hands of those anew.

The Prophet Jeremiah (aka Aramiah/Armiya/Irmiya/Urmiya/etc.) spoke of the coming of a Prophet in the New Age whose name would mean the Guardian of the Treasure, whom would dwell upon the mountain shaped as a horseshoe to which his People would amalgamate anew to assist him in the time of the great fulfillment. While this ancient prophecy (although greatly misconstrued) is indeed indicative of the masses second coming of their elected person of conviction (albeit a God, the Son of God, the Son of Man, or a Prophet alike), this arrival is not of that of an immortal God, nor his Son, but in fact of that of a mortal Prophet anew, and the arrival of this individual had indeed ensued at the cusp of the second to third millennia, to which the masses remain obscurely unaware of. The truthful purpose of the coming of a Prophet (Messenger), as well as of his People (his Faithful) helpers, is 'not' to save, but rather to 'bring warning' and 'offer guidance' to humanity.

The masses must reason why they remain unaware of this arrival, as well as for what purpose was it to be carried out in this manner in the New Age, that the Prophet would enter not into the public sector, taking to the lands as done in times immemorial, to reveal his presence? To abridge, it was to be undertaken in this manner, because the ill-willed ones of old took the ancient texts (that which was taught by the Prophets of old, respectively the Teaching of the Prophets, which were the true Laws and Recommendations of the Creation) and falsified/manipulated said doctrine, which resulted in a system of control (Earthly Religion), to which the masses would heedlessly follow, yet see not how they remain bound to it.

Thus, it is to be finally understood by the masses that the Prophets 'did not' teach Religion, but in truth brought the essence of the Relegeon, and it was their teachings and truths brought forth that were falsified by the hands of men in times immemorial, to which false earthly religions ultimately arose. In consequence, while the Prophets of old and their Faithful were indeed accepted by some in truth, they were more so erroneously exalted or deified as God(s), Angels, etc., by others, and largely persecuted by those in positions of power, for bringing a truth to the masses the ill-willed ones sought to remain veiled. For this reason, it is to be so, that the truly seeking one ought find their way to the Prophet of the new time in this Golden Age of Man, via the power of their own free-will.

"...the modern age human will sooner or later abandon Religion, and will then seek the true religion in association with the Relegeon, because they will in other words, find and recognize the real truth"

(The Demi-Queen of Wisdom)

It was the primeval direct utilization of the aforespoken of, hindering system of consciousness-control (Earthly Religion), which gave rise to all sectarian systems of the past and the present (not limited to religionism, but likewise politicism, patriotism, etc.), which was used to persuade the masses to the ill-willed ones of ancient times, whom were the initial responsible for bringing such convictions of belief amidst the early peoples of Earth, but whom was all too eager to submit and quickly adopted these convictions as their own (disregarding the peace they once heeded), which woefully incited the desired division among the people. For if there remained no unity, cohesion, equalizedness, or peace amid the masses (as they war and fight amid one another in false belief that there remain an elected religion by a God(s), whom are entitled to the inheritance of land, fortune, and power of authority over all others, etc.), the agenda of the ill-willed ones could remain concealed. This segregation of the masses was accomplished via the ancient ill-willed ones insisting there was a chosen people, whom had the right to inherit all upon the Earth. Equally the subduing of the masses to the ancient ill-willed ones was accomplished via the displaying of what 'appeared' to the masses to be as heavenly, unearthly, unhuman abilities (Signs and Wonders).

In turn the ill-willed ones of old were raised up as idols and worshipped as Gods and Angels (whom were nothing more than invading Extraterrestrials, space-faring human beings merely of a different kind) and for millennia this was likewise the case for their many ruling descendants, and ultimately became so with countless succeeding ill-willed ones, whom have been raised-up by the masses and falsely recognized and venerated as ruling authorities, Holy Ones, Saints and false representatives of a God and/or Jesus for millennia to come. Consequently, the primeval masses 'willfully' took up the misdeeds presented by the ancients and carried on in conflict over being the said chosen ones to which all Earthly rights belonged.

Accordingly, the masses woefully unheedingly fulfilled every evil deed and desire of the ill-willed ones of antiquity, the likes which remains carried out the same today, via the same systems, as well as newly created systems of control (all earthly religions and sects), while the ill-willed ones themselves lift not a finger, as stated in Matthew 23:3-4, "All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not. For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers", and it has been so! The masses ought ponder, that if man were in fact already saved via the one known as the Savior, said to have died for the sins of mankind, that they themselves bare no burden or responsibility for such, then for what reason was the coming of a Prophet anew foretold and/or the returning of an assumed Savior warranted?

"Open your eyes and raise up your heads, if you are able to recognize Nokodemion, who walketh in many forms and with many names as chosen One of the Earth ... Verily, on that day you will see the wise of wise ones, who hath made himself as 'Son of Man', and on that day all kings and mighty and high ones and those who possess the stronghold, and they will see and recognize him, how he sits on the throne of his modest glory."

(©M 33:65-67)

As it pertains to the inevitably unfolding of events upon the earth, all began when a Highly Spiritually Evolved Extraterrestrial Being by the name of Nokodemion (who presently knows an age greater than 86 thousand-million years old, to which no conceivable earthly calculation exists, but may be somewhat comparable to billions) from the planet Sadr in the Waron Star System of the now dissolved Lyren Galaxy, within another space-time continuum, inevitably initiated upon himself a very great task that would continue to be carried out to this very day. Nokodemion, throughout the course of his own very long existence of millions of years, had come to recognize the truth about the Great Creator, respectively the Creation. Having become all-knowing in vast knowledge of the Universal Natural Laws and the Creational Laws and Recommendations for all great times, he recognized the evolutive value this great knowledge could be to all Beings in developing worlds. Accordingly, Nokodemion integrated his vast knowledge in to what would become known as the Spiritual Teaching, respectively the Teaching of the Spirit (in the modern era deemed the Creation-Energy Teaching, which comprises the Teaching of the Truth, Teaching of the Spirit and Teaching of the Life), and it was this teaching he set out to share amid many evolving worlds as a Teacher of Truth, respectively a Herald of Truth. In the modern era, this teaching may be found amid the Goblet of the Truth, which is past times was known as the Cauldron of Life, which was later fabricated into the Grail and/or the Holy Grail (although these past doctrines ultimately fell prey to falsification).

Nokodemion voyaged to diverse planets amid vast galaxies far and wide, teaching his knowledge, wisdom and understanding to the most diverse Beings, from which he lovingly created his People. He did not create these People by way that he would have begotten them, but by way that as he traveled to planets near and far, those whom willfully gravitated toward and followed him, wishing to become knowing ones, he instructed in the Laws and Recommendations of the Creation, and joined them together as People approximately 29.5 thousand-million years ago on the Planet Sadr. Henceforth, ultimately via both natural biological procreation and artificial cloning creation others had come about from Nokodemion, to which these were given the teaching in a progressive manner, so to speak. All his people had become great knowing ones, becoming known amid vast worlds as Nokodemion's People, and equally the Faithful. Over a great time, many millions joined this Faithful group, in which they collectively became known as the Nokodemion-Henok Lineage. The amalgamating of the Faithful became so by way that albeit Nokodemion was beyond wise, to take on such a task as instructing Beings across vast worlds solitarily, was nevertheless far too great a task for one Being alone to bear, thus Nokodemion gathered his Faithful, whom had thenceforth joined him in his travels and aided Nokodemion in his efforts toward many diverse Beings amid many evolving planets.

Over a great time, in which Nokodemion had met the becoming and the passing, and to which he had ultimately evolved to a high evolutionary immaterial state and plane, his Peoples had greatly multiplied, to which some of his People had become apostate to the Laws of Creation turning away from them. While a bleaching in the Teaching of Nokodemion bestowed great knowledge of the Laws of Creation, woefully this brought neither to Nokodemion's People wisdom nor true understanding of its great power and responsibility. Consequently some amid his People of a diverse kind remained greatly confounded, with some reckoning themselves as a privileged Peoples, ultimately envisioning themselves as representatives of the Creation and/or the Creation itself (the Creation had later become intertwined with the notion of God amid Earthly Religions), to which consequently the true Teaching of Nokodemion had woefully become greatly confounded and thus many amid his people turned away from the Teaching.

"And at first, the just were rebellious to Creation due to an evil oath, yet they wanted to atone and pay seven thousand lives, to be just again under the wise of wise ones, under the Head of Days, Nokodemion. Thus they promised with a holy oath of determination, to newly and truly begin to live after seven thousand lives of atonement, to bring justice to Earth as just ones. And those honored, praised and exalted Creation in wisdom, and they proved themselves as wise in their speech and in the Spirit of life; yet they fell away from the wisdom and truth and thus they created the injustice on Earth. Yet they submitted themselves to the Head of Days, the wise of wise ones, Nokodemion, who by the powers of Creation, so thus by Its laws and recommendations, sits on the modesty of his throne of wisdom"

(OAI 33:51 -54)

Due to the great extent of this misfortune, 9.6 thousand-million years ago Nokodemion voluntarily returned from the spiritual plane for the sake of his gone astray Peoples to bring them to reason and with the aid of a task force was able to complete such within a few short decades. After a great time 8.4 thousand-million years ago, when these had enlivened anew, some among these would still have not yet found their way, warranting Nokodemion's return a subsequent time 1.2 thousand-million years ago in different form, in which Nokodemion (as Henok) would amalgamate Faithful anew to assist him in his efforts, which would seemingly become successful, with the fallible Peoples (comprising of many generations of his Peoples) finding the way of the right, however some would repeat previous woeful actions and rectifying attempts would be made anew.

By this time, his Peoples had greatly multiplied and remained scattered amid multiple worlds within two space time continuums, to which some of the very distant descendants of his Peoples (numbering by the tens of thousand-millions) whom had turned to the way of the wrong, found their way to Terra (Earth) and become chronicled as the Gods and/or Angels of old, respectively the Sons and Daughters of Heaven, of the Earthly Religions. After such great fallacy and the woeful events chronicled in the annals herein, It remains the case, that Nokodemion for the love of his People, bestowed upon himself the task of reentering the human 'reincarnation' cycle a great time ago, spanning across countless lives amid vast timelines, to ultimately bring to mankind of earth anew the Laws of Creation and the Spiritual Teaching, respectively the Creation-Energy Teaching, that the Omedam (Earth Human) may release themselves from the bondage of untruth to which they have been bound since time immemorial. To accomplish such a task, Nokodemion (in new form) gathered 144k of his Faithful whom avowed their service to him for a great time, with whom he arrived to Terra (Earth) approximately 389,000 years ago.

- and the OAI revealeth the secret about the inhabitants of earth -

"Those, who are fallible, are human beings, to whom a dwelling place is given on Earth and every possibility of life and of evolution unto BEING."

"... You will be your own descendants in your reincarnations, so you art the descendants of your descendants at the same time and the procreators of the procreators and therefore, the old ones of the procreators and the old ones of the old ones."

"And this is the beginning of the speech of wisdom of this vision, which I began to speak and to tell to those who live on Earth and are mankind of Earth and thus sons and daughters of the heavens..."

(Henok - OAI 9:41 and 31:196 and 906)

Nokodemion's undeniable love of the Creation and for his Peoples, would remain the unwavering driving force in devoutly aiding the Omedam (Earth Humans/Terrans/Terrestrials) find their way to the truth and to the way of the right. Accordingly, Nokodemion would 'repeatedly' reincarnate (not resurrect as this remains an impossibility following having been deceased, thus it is to be understood that it is the Spirit-form which reincarnates, not the individual that resurrects) on Terra (Earth) in 'new form' and 'named anew' amid vast timelines, until the task has reached fulfillment a great time from now.

Unbeknownst to humanity, the Nokodemion spirit-form has endured reincarnation upon the earth spanning over millennia, as countless personalities whom have held and shall continue to hold pivotal evolutive roles, yet it is to be understood that solely a Sevenfold Prophethood has been foreordained to arise from the midst of such, whoms personalities shall carry the names Henoch, Jeremia, Jesaja, Elia, Muhammad and Eduard. Accompanying the Nokodemion Spirit-form, whom shall likewise appear again and again in new form and named anew, shall be various among his Faithful Spirit-forms to aid him in his mission of dissemination of the truth and of the teaching, as has been the case since time immemorial, until the mission has reached fulfillment in 3999 CE.

Lyran Text approximately 8,000 years of age

"I am the Herald of Truth, and in this mission, I will be again in important times by the names: Elia, Jesaia, Jeremia, Immanuel, Aluhammed, Billy, so I will serve the human beings as a Prophet among seven times, before the change for the compliance with the Laws and Recommendations of Creation will take place in their thinking. So I will be in reincarnation in the new time when space will be conquered, and when the guardian angels from foreign stars will appear once again. My reincarnation in the new time will be as Billy and with the name Eduard Meier, and I will dwell in a land of peace in the North, which will be called Schweiz. The human being then may listen to my voice, so they may be led into the light of the Teaching of the Spirit."

Henoch (The Wise Man of Time / The Initiate)

The true history of Earth is beyond what may be fathomed by the human being of the modern time and is such that it entails the Earth having become the home to countless extraterrestrials (whom came to Earth in many groupings of thousands to thousand-millions over vast timelines), and came both before and after the Earth itself became capable of the Creation of its own human form of life. Thus, it remains of no consequence whether one whom currently dwells upon the Earth (today's vast diverse human races), arose as such from having once immigrated, refuted, invaded, exiled, intermixed, followed and/or returned to the Earth, for their true origins nevertheless emanate from the vastness of space and time, of which they will only slowly begin to unveil in this new age.

What is of true and greatest importance, remains that which has been since times of old, in such that woefully those whom collectively dwell upon the earth had become apostate (turned away) and/or rejected the Laws and Recommendations of the Creation since time immemorial, to which all evils came to exist and sorrowfully persist on Earth. Consequently, one ought not look to thy neighbor for lone culpability, those is position of power and/or whom appear to possess the strong-hold, as this remains of no avail, if one truly heeds the aforementioned parable from the Book of Truth (OM) with lucidity. It is such, that during this Golden Age of Man (the time of the Water Bearer), is when humanity will only just begin to unhurriedly awake, heed the unfolding entropy and seek the truth, as well as heed the Laws and Recommendations of the Creation (for presently only few trod and/or walk this path).

The heeding of the Creations Laws and Recommendations remain the sole route to which true Peace may inevitably be fostered upon the Earth, and humanity may save itself from destruction. It is to be understood, that the destruction spoken of is not carried out via acts of war, punishment by an alleged God, a presumed angry mother nature, or at the hands of others alike, but in truth, remains within the framework of the Laws of Creation (a Law of Nature) in which all life lives, to which humanity persists in unheeding, whilst in truth, the human being bears witness to this law take its effect in nature amid the fauna and flora, yet woefully believes it stands above such a law.

Excerpt: "One Who Lives the Life in Wisdom: Interference can only be performed if recognizable catastrophe of great extraplanetary extension announce themselves. Guardian of the Treasure: Then this means, that the inhabitants of a world, this world, can be completely destroyed, if the greater system is not menaced? One Who Lives the Life in Wisdom: ...Each creature must take its own path of evolution, even if this includes self-destruction. Guardian of the Treasure: This seems somehow rough, and even barbarous. But it is conceivable to me, for it is a law which is well established in nature. What degenerates negatively is thus destroyed so that it can not menace the better forms. One Who Lives the Life in Wisdom: ...Only by the observance of the laws can life proceed. It is wrong when degenerate life is maintained in such form that it becomes still worse..."

The aforementioned serves not to incite woe, but on the contrary, rather to awaken enlightenment, that humanity begin to reason and truly consider the ways in which the human beings persist in committing crimes against humanity and all life. How this has been carried out since ancient times, and so ... For How Long ... may such continue prior to a destructive end? How obtaining peace via war (murder) reckons rationality, when such has persisted for hundreds of thousands of years and still no peace ... For How Longggg ... How stealing the lands from all other life with the self-serving notion to simply take more land for needless entertainments, to erect bigger homes, and simply tower the buildings evermore amid the clouds ought be the solution ... For How Longggggg ... How incessantly robbing the lands and oceans of its bounty, thus bringing various other life to utter extinction, to serve only the vast multiplying of the human being, ought not inevitably have its detrimental effect ... For How Longggggggg will humanity refuse to see and hear these truths, and ignore the signs of the time which present themselves with such great force.

Verily, human beings of earth, lament not over what has gone, yet heed what woes had come to pass in forgone times, that the way of truth and the way of great change may prevail and such destruction doth not come. Let it be so, that those of this time having 'justly evolved', whom unveil the guarded treasure (Truth), set forth and unproselytizingly share their acquired golden nuggets of illumination (Wisdom) amid their kin and thy neighbor alike, that well beyond this time, the way of righteousness may be sought by 'every' human being and the great change may ensue.

"Further necessary knowledge is to be mentioned regarding a cosmic developmental change, which I have already mentioned once before. It concerns the Age of Aquarius, also known as the "Golden Age". Concerning this, the first thing I have to explain is that the religious interpretations regarding this age are absolutely unreal and are consciously misinterpreted. In part, however, there is also a certain irresponsible fanaticism behind it, when it is claimed that the Aquarian Age was the religiously proclaimed Last Days. But the new age is by no means an end-time, because in truth it brings the real life. It is only this age that makes it possible to bring everything to a highest state and to develop the spirit as well as the consciousness according to providence. However, it will take many centuries after the onset of the age before it will be so. First and foremost, as usual, the scientists who are poor in religion will reap benefits and might from the new advent, while the normal people will be impaired and profoundly disadvantaged by the religion. Due to the change of ages, many of the people who hold fast to the belief in a religion fall prey to a sectarian and religious delusion. In particular, the 185 years of the transition period are mightfully characterised by the fact that religious belief-directions of all kinds sprout from the ground like mushrooms and cast their dangerously destructive spell over the human beings. Murder, suicide, mass murder and exploitation of all kinds as well as evil sectarian-religious enslavement arising from unreal assumptions of belief belong to the order of the day, wherethrough the entire world view is being shaken in a religious-sectarian manner. Supposed bringers of salvation and false prophets take up a lot of room in open public and fanatically search for victims and new hangers-on. This is the prelude to the "Golden Age", the transitional phase of 185 years. However, the full value of the age will not dawn until the 3rd of February

2029, at 11:20 CET. However, the power of developmental change of the New Age has begun on the 3rd of February 1844, and since then the tremendous changes on the Earth have been rushing forward unstoppably. The New Age is already taking its toll: Religious insanity, rapid development of the computer technology, other technology, of the space travel technology, genetic engineering and all sciences, prevalence of crime, extermination wars etc., signs of the time, which are unob overlookable. The first half, representing the halfway value of the Aquarian Age, lasted 93 years, from 1844 to 1937, during which the Earth escaped to the outermost radiations of the Age of Pisces. As of the 3rd of February 1937, 11:20 CET, the actual Age of Aquarius began in the transition period, in other words the second transitional half. From this date on, rapid developmental change events, discoveries, inventions and wars as well as rebellion, etc., are absolutely everyday norms of time and development, which are characteristic of no other age in this form. However, at the same time, the beginning of the Age of Aquarius guarantees the beginning of a truly spiritual and consciousness-based life. The entire earthly solar system with all its innumerable life-forms is cast under the spell of the New Age. Everything and everyone is and will be influenced by it, as this is a cosmic law. According to this law, to which all movements of all planets and all life-forms in the entire universe are subject, the Earth too entered in the year 1844, in the course of the cosmic event, into a period, which evolution-based renews or eliminates all hitherto existing and valid regulations, if these are not of creational-nature-based character. The new era entails that all created regulations of Earth-human origin, which had their validity until then, are newly established, changed and evolutionised, modified or abolished. The origin of this epochal transformation lies in the radiation range of the gigantic centre of the stars, which we call the central sun, around which the earthly, i.e. the SOL-system orbits and passes once in the course of 25,860 years through 12 different ages in the sense of the zodiac signs known to you. The Earth i.e. the SOL-system orbits the Milky Way and its central sun in about 318 million years and is already immersed in the outer edge of the "Golden Radiation" of the galactic central sun, which emits the strongest transforming and developmental change radiations in the entire Milky Way area. Also regarding this radiation, the Age of Aquarius is called the "Golden Age"; the revolutionary, the new, the greatest, the Miracle Age, which brings the most immense evolutions. But much calamity is also associated with it, especially in terms of the religions and the use of new discoveries and new achievements. Not until many centuries have gone by will the human being of Earth triumph over his/her unintellect and his/her irrationality and establish everything based on the creational-natural laws. The Age of Aquarius is a great and exciting time. Very sublime and golden, it also has an effect in later ages and influences all zodiac circles that are to be passed through later. But during the course of the "Golden Age" the human being will find a natural spiritual-consciousness-based direction, which, however, will not come about without great confusions. Countless human beings will die in the delusion of their sects and religions and come to an evil end. But happy will be those who have escaped the irrational teachings of the religions and sects and indulge in the truth, the knowledge, and in the essence of wisdom of the spirit. A tremendous renewal will take place on the Earth. That which is intellectual will no longer be the only decisive factor, but will be run rings around by spiritual knowledge and spiritual ability. Anything that is not highly enough developed in spiritual-consciousness-based terms, for being receptive to and for in harmony with the higher spheres of the spiritual go hand in hand with it, will be erased and eliminated, because it disturbingly and dangerously impairs the life in every way. All spirit-inhibiting, spirit-enslaving, consciousness-inhibiting, and consciousness-enslaving things will be destroyed, after everything has passed the climaxes."
